Canadian Secretary of State Succumbs to Heart Attack

Long in Public Life

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The sudden death last night of Hon. Fernand Rinfret, Canadian Secretary of State, was attributed to a heart ailment. An autopsy was performed today.

The cabinet member, who also was former mayor of Montreal, died in an ambulance taking him to a hospital.

The coroner said death apparently was caused by a heart attack. Attacks of the Biltmore Hotel, where he had been staying since Monday, said Mr. Rinfret complained of illness and asked that a physician be called. A police ambulance was summoned shortly before midnight, but doctors pronounced him dead on arrival at the hospital.

The passing of M. Rinfret was the second death among members of the House of Commons in less than a week. Dr. A. M. Young, Liberal member for Saskatoon, succumbed July 9 following an operation.

The two deaths leave five vacancies in the Commons. The party standing now is Liberals 176, Conservatives 38, Social Credit 16, C.C.F. 7, Independent 2, U.F.O.-Labor 1, vacant 5.

The vacancies are Calgary West, Kent, Ont., Montreal Jacques Cartier, Saskatoon and Montreal St. James.

Save 15 From Ship On Rocks

Firemen and Police Join Coast Guard in Rescue Near San Diego

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Coastguardsmen, police, deputy sheriffs and firemen today joined forces to rescue approximately 15 persons aboard the fishing barge Glehn Mayne, being pounded to pieces in the surf near Carlsbad, 35 miles north of here.

A coastguard plane piloted by Lieutenant E. W. Sinton took off from the local base and sped to the scene.

Several persons jumped overboard and were rescued by swimmers, it was reported. Firemen from nearby Oceanside, equipped with an inhalator, worked over the exhausted victims.

A large crowd of spectators lined the beach and watched efforts to rescue those aboard the barge.

The Glenn Mayne, formerly a two-masted cod fisherman from the Grand Banks of Newfoundland, dragged its anchor and was carried helplessly into the surf.

Fire Destroys Lumber in Dry Kiln at Mill

40,000 Feet Lost in $2,000 Blaze at Cameron's Mill

Millhand Injured

About 40,000 feet of lumber were destroyed and damage estimated at $2,000 was caused by fire in the dry kiln of Cameron's Lumber Mill this morning. The loss was not covered by insurance.

John O'Connor, millhand, suffered injuries to his shoulder and arm when he was injured while assisting firemen.

The fire was confined to one section of the dry kiln and was prevented from spreading to stacked lumber outside the kiln by Fire Chief Alex Munroe and city firemen who had it controlled within a hour of arriving at the mill.

Cause of the fire was an overheated bearing, Chief Munroe said.

The outbreak occurred about 10 and fire headquarters receiving the first call at 10.02. On arrival of fire trucks efforts were concentrated on removal of the six loaded kiln cars which were inside. This was made difficult by the expansion of the rails leading out from the kiln which prevented the electric train from being placed in position to load the kiln cars and tow them away.

This difficulty was overcome by cutting the rail with an acetylene torch.

O'Connor was injured when he was thrown 12 feet from the top of a pile of stacked lumber to the ground.

He was holding a hose line near the nozzle. The firemen he was helping let go of the line momentarily and as he attempted to shift its position the force of the water pressure picked him up and dropped him to the ground head-first. He struck a large block of wood on the ground with his shoulder. First aid attention was given by Inspector J. T. Boulton and Sgt. Roy Woolsey of the city police and employees of the mill, after which O'Connor was removed to St. Joseph's Hospital in the C. & C. ambulance.

In addition to the destroyed lumber damage included injury of the kiln pipes. The full extent of this was uncertain pending closer examination than was permitted this morning.

Flames were not visible from outside the kiln but inside they were combatted by firemen John Abbott and Jack Easton equipped with smoke helmets and asbestos suits. Air was pumped in to them from outside the building.

SQUALUS LIFTED BUT BREAKS AWAY

First Attempt of Salvors To Raise U.S. Submarine Fails

PORTSMOUTH, N.Y. (AP)—The ill-fated submarine Squalus, which carried 26 of her crew to death in a plunge to the bottom last May 23, broke loose from a navy salvage crew late today and plummeted back to the ocean floor after being lifted part way to the surface.

The entire bow of the craft momentarily was above the surface. Then the 20-foot section vanished almost as suddenly as it had appeared, and it became plain the forward part of the Squalus had broken away from at least one, and possibly both of its lifting pontoons.

Two pontoons burst out of the water just as the bow appeared, and one of them floated bottom side up, as if it had sheared its moorings. The other remained partially submerged.

Today's efforts to raise the craft were designed as the first step toward moving the craft into shallower water.

Thetis Salvage Delay

LIVERPOOL (CP)—Attempts to raise the sunken submarine Thetis off North Wales were suspended today because of a violent wind. The Thetis sank June 1 with a loss of 99 lives.

Phenix Cables Snap

SAIGON, French Indo-China (CP)—Salvage vessels have failed in the first attempt to raise the French submarine Phenix, which sank June 15 in the China Sea with 77 men aboard.

Cables placed around the hull yesterday snapped when the ships tried to lift the submarine through 300 feet of water.

BATTLE FIRE AT CAMERON MILL—Many firemen assisted by millhands at the Cameron Lumber Co. were kept busy for two hours this morning subduing a fire which broke out in one of the dry kilns. The smoke was so dense some firemen had to wear smoke masks and asbestos suits. Jack O'Connor, millhand, was tossed from the pile of lumber at right when he tried to shift a powerful hose singlehanded.

WARRANTS FOR 221 AFTER MINE CLASH

Union Leaders Among Those Facing Charges In Kentucky

HARLAN, Ky. (AP)—Warrants were issued today against 221 persons—including the president and secretary of the United Mine Workers (C.I.O.) in the Harlan coal field—as the aftermath of a "pitched battle" between pickets and national guardsmen in which a miner was killed and six other men, including two troopers, either shot or beaten.

The union leaders accused were: William Turnblazer of Jellico, Tenn., District 19, U.M.W. president, and George Titler of Harlan, district secretary-treasurer.

Turnblazer was not in Harlan. He announced Tuesday he had been called to Washington to testify before a Senate committee.

The warrants charge "banding and confederating to intimidate," a charge which County Attorney Bert Howard said carried a one to five-year penalty on conviction.

Hughes Flying Stratoliner South

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Howard Hughes landed a specially-equipped Boeing Stratoliner plane at the Portland-Columbia airport today.

The famous pilot, en route from Seattle to Los Angeles, used the new super airport still under construction because of a 15 to 20-mile-an-hour wind at the Swan Island field in the Willamette River.

Bomber Starts Across Atlantic

BOTWOOD, Nfld. (CP)—A 15-ton flying boat built in California for the Royal Air Force took off from here at 5.30 a.m., P.S.T., for Felixstowe, Eng.

The big bomber arrived here late yesterday afternoon from Buffalo, N.Y.

The ship is expected to reach England early tomorrow morning. The distance to Felixstowe is 2,400 miles.

Aboard are Pilot Russell Rogers and a crew of three.

70-CENT BASIS FOR EASTERN WHEAT

OTTAWA (CP)—The Canadian Wheat Board's 70-cent initial price for 1939 western spring wheat, has been extended to include winter wheat grown in eastern Canada. Hon. W. D. Euler, Trade Minister, announced today.

The cabinet approved a recommendation of the board that a price of 79 cents a bushel, basis delivered to Montreal, be paid for No. 1 Canada eastern white wheat, No. 1 Canada eastern red winter and No. 1 Canada eastern mixed winter wheat. This price applies to the 1939 crop and will be effective from August 1, 1939, to June 30, 1940.

The price equivalent for milling grades other than those named, will be fixed "shortly," the minister said.

Last year Ontario grew 19,814,000 bushels of winter wheat of various grades and 1,610,000 bushels of spring wheat. No winter wheat was grown east of Ontario, but Quebec grew 738,000 bushels of spring wheat; Nova Scotia produced 54,000 bushels, New Brunswick—150,000 and Prince Edward Island 180,000. Almost no winter wheat is grown in western Canada.

Britain Trains Naval Reserves

12,000 Men to Take Part in August-September Fleet Exercises

By J. F. SANDERSON

Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON — The British navy is calling up 12,000 retired officers and reservists for fleet exercises in August and September, Prime Minister Chamberlain announced in the House of Commons today.

Ships now in reserve will be manned for the exercises, which will combine work by the navy and the air force.

The King will review 130 vessels of the reserve fleet in Weymouth Bay, August 9.

The Prime Minister said the reason for the semimobilization of reservists was "to obtain the fullest possible advantage from the combined fleet and air exercises in August and September and thereby advance the degree of efficiency of the fleet."

There seemed to be no doubt, however, that this was another plain warning to the ships in question to vary a great deal in size from battleships to very small craft, but I believe there will be about 130 ships in all."

The naval reservists will be required to join their stations July 31, the Prime Minister said, and the manoeuvres will begin early in August and last until the third week in September. The reservists will be permitted to return home at the end of September.

An Admiralty spokesman declared British reservists resident in Canada and other parts of the Empire are not liable to recall under today's order.

"We are using only home residents because they are handy," he added.

Several weeks ago the Admiralty advanced all summer leaves from August to July to prepare for "autumn manoeuvres." Celebration of Navy Week, which usually is held the first week in August, also had been cancelled.

Asked by Sir Archibald Southby, Conservative, how many ships were likely to take part in the Weymouth review, Prime Minister Chamberlain replied: "I understand that the ships in question will vary a great deal in size from battleships to very small craft, but I believe there will be about 130 ships in all."

Manitoba Adheres To Barter Plan

Will Exchange With Germany Despite Ottawa's Objections, Says Bracken

WINNIPEG (CP)—Premier John Bracken states Manitoba will go through with its German trade plans despite objections in Ottawa. The plans involve exchange of Manitoba products for $300,000 worth of German electrical equipment.

The Premier, who conferred with his cabinet last night and left shortly after his announcement for Charlottetown to attend the 75th anniversary ceremonies of the conference that led to Confederation, said the government would strictly observe the terms of the German-Canadian trade treaty in the barter scheme.

"Mr. Bracken said Hon. W. D. Euler, Trade and Commerce Minister, had objected to the proposals "we submitted to him some time ago providing for the exchange of certain Manitoba products for German industrial goods."

"It is a matter of regret to us here that technicalities should lie in the way of possible trade development," Mr. Bracken continued. "However, the Manitoba government is taking the position that it is not going to permit anything to stand in the way of an opportunity to secure markets for farm products."

"It is our hope that in the future certain changes may be made in the present trade arrangements with Germany whereby we may have a little more latitude in regard to the sale of farm products to that country," the Premier added.

One of the first steps in the Manitoba transaction with Germany will be the placing of an order for electrical equipment by the Manitoba telephone system.

No action, however, will be taken until Mr. Bracken returns to Winnipeg in about 10 days.

BIG DEFENCE LOAN SOON IN BRITAIN

Simon Tells Commons Public May Be Asked For £1,638,000,000

LONDON (AP)—Sir John Simon, Chancellor of the Exchequer, told the House of Commons tonight that a new public loan of about £350,000,000 ($1,638,000,000) probably would be necessary to meet Britain's mounting armament costs this year.

Sir John estimated armaments for the current year would cost £730,000,000 (about $3,416,000,000) as a result of new increases in the 1939-40 budget for the air force, supply ministry and the army.

He spoke in final debate on the budget, which was passed on third reading and sent to the House of Lords.

A Labor motion for rejection of the finance bill was defeated by a vote of 206 to 141.

Three Vancouver Lumber Fires Investigated

Police and Department Officials Trace Reports Of Suspicious Figures

$1,000 Store Fire

VANCOUVER (CP)—Police and fire department officials joined today in investigating a series of fires which broke out last night and early today in two sections of this city.

Although damage was believed small—a tentative estimate was $11,000 for the four blazes—one of three fires that broke out along the False Creek waterfront endangered a score of lives.

The first fire was reported shortly after 7 yesterday evening, a small blaze in a shed on the Vancouver Lumber Company's property near Cambie Street Bridge and quickly controlled.

The second alarm was turned in around 1 a.m. for a blaze on the same company's property. Six hours later another two-alarm sent firefighters speeding to the Finneson Lumber Company's place near the Granville Street Bridge, where several houses and their sleeping occupants were endangered.

The occupants were roused by early arrivals at the fire scene as sparks and embers drifted down, threatening to spread the flames to a half dozen residences.

At 9 this morning M. Duncommin discovered a blaze in the rear of Copp's shore store at 26th and Main Street. By the time he had given the alarm and firemen arrived the flames had spread through the entire rear of the store.

Damage was estimated at $1,000.

WARDEN'S OPINION

"I believe there are good reasons to suspect incendiarism," Fire Warden Archie King said after examining the premises of the Vancouver Lumber Company, where a two-alarm call had brought equipment from six halls.

A 100-foot-long shed, formerly used as a planer mill, was destroyed, along with a quantity of fuel sawdust and stored lumber.

Several firemen had a narrow escape from injury when the south wall of the shed collapsed. Men operating hoses managed to leap to safety as the wall and large burning timbers fell.

Quick action of firemen prevented the flames spreading to the adjoining premises of the Alberta Lumber Company.

The False Creek fireboat aided the firemen in fighting the blaze at the Finneson Lumber Company's premises on the bank of the creek a mile from the Vancouver Lumber Company's place. A sawdust shed and a quantity of sawdust were destroyed.

HURRIES FROM HOME

Fred Dodds, machinist, escaped without injury from his combined plant and dwelling next to the Finneson Company's yard.

Dodds said he awoke to the crackle of flames. The roof and rear walls of his building were burned but the flames were checked before they made any headway into the interior.

Flames from the Finneson yard jumped a lane and set fire to woodsheds at the rear of homes of T. Tsugi and Y. Saito, but were brought under control without further damage.

Officials investigated reports that suspicious characters were seen in the vicinity of the blaze in the Finneson Company's yard immediately after the fire was discovered.

Two young men in an automobile were observed leaving the scene as the flames licked through the timber dry structure. A nearby resident reported a man ran through his yard just after the fire was first noticed.

Warden King said "There is a possibility the two fires may be connected."

Late Minister Long Served Public

Prime Minister King Pays Tribute to Hon. F. Rinfret's Career

LATE HON. F. RINFRET

OTTAWA (CP)—Those who knew him, particularly in the earlier years of his career, can fully appreciate how considerable a loss his passing has occasioned to the public life of our country, said Prime Minister Mackenzie King in a tribute today to Secretary of State Rinfret, who died shortly before last midnight in Los Angeles.

Mr. Rinfret enjoyed, to an exceptional degree, over a long period of years, the confidence of his fellow citizens of Montreal, and of his fellow countrymen generally, said Mr. King. He was a man whose friendships transcended the lines of party, race and religious belief.

Member of the House of Commons for Montreal St. James, Mr. Rinfret twice held the portfolio of Secretary of State and for two years was mayor of Montreal.

His first appointment as Secretary of State came in 1926 and he held the position until 1930, when he resigned. From 1932 to 1934 he served as mayor of Montreal and the following year was appointed Secretary of State again.

Mr. Rinfret, a native of Montreal, where he received his education, quit his early business life to try the newspaper field.

He gained a reputation in Quebec for his sketches on French-Canadian literature, and then he left his brief calling in 1905 to become private secretary to Hon. Raymond Prefontaine, Canadian Minister of Marine.

He retained that post for three years and then returned to the newspaper field as parliamentary correspondent for Montreal Le Canada.

For 17 years he remained at his Ottawa post, then during the Great War made a tour of the western front on the invitation of the British government. On his return to Canada he published a series of wartime pamphlets.

BECAME M.P. IN 1920

Meanwhile his associations with politics were becoming closer and in 1920 he was elected to the House of Commons as member for St. James. In the House, his "speech-making" reputation that he established in school was renewed. He spoke easily in English and French.

In 1925 the French government awarded him the red ribbon of the Legion of Honor. The following year he was taken into the cabinet by Prime Minister King after the 1926 election and remained as Secretary of State until the government's defeat by the Conservative party in 1930.

But Mr. Rinfret achieved a personal victory and remained in the House, of which, he used to say, "by a combination of unusual circumstances I was elected six times in 12 years."

Two years after the defeat of the government, Mr. Rinfret became mayor of Montreal, ousting Camille Houde (who at present is mayor). Mrs. Rinfret then said: "We may have to resort to direct relief on account of the exceptional gravity of the situation, but to me the ideal plan is not direct relief. Cities should get some work for their money." He was not in favor of the "dole."

DID NOT MARRY

A bachelor, Mr. Rinfret lived in a Montreal apartment house, spending much of his time at the Montreal Reform Club, of which he was a former president. He also was a member of the Royal Society of Canada.

His two brothers also made names for themselves in their respective fields. Thibault became a justice of the Supreme Court of Canada and Charles a prominent industrialist.

Son of Francois Rinfret and his wife, the former Albina Pominville, both French-Canadians, Fernand was born in Montreal, February 28, 1883. He was educated at Notre Dame College and St. Mary's College, where he obtained his degree of bachelor of arts.

New British Merchant Fleet

Subsidy Bill Providing Wide Aid for Shipping Placed Before Commons

LONDON (CP)—The British Shipping Assistance Bill, providing subsidies for the merchant marine, was presented to Parliament for first readings today by Oliver Stanley, President of the Board of Trade.

The bill provides for:
1. Loans up to £10,000,000 ($46,250,000) to shipbuilders to help build up the mercantile fleet.
2. An annual subsidy of £2,750,000 for five years for ocean-going ships.
3. Allocation of £2,000,000 for the purchase of old ships which might otherwise be scrapped or sold to foreign powers, but which would still be useful in case of emergency.

No French Demand For Canadian Wheat

PARIS (CP-Havas)—Foreign reports that France plans to import large quantities of Canadian wheat were denied by authorized quarters here today.

These sources pointed out that according to estimates the next harvest will permit France to cope with its needs and that existing supplies are amply sufficient.

Hitler Talks With Forster of Danzig

FREE CITY OF DANZIG (AP)—An official announcement issued here said Albert Forster, Nazi district leader in Danzig, had a long talk today with Adolf Hitler at the Fuehrer's mountain retreat at Berchtesgaden.

The subject of their conversation was not announced, but it was taken for granted they canvassed thoroughly the current situation in the Free City.

It was announced Hitler took the occasion to send special greetings to Danzigers through Forster.

Besides Forster, other guests of Hitler were Wilhelm Zaska, Danzig's Nazi district headquarters secretary, and Otto Hess, one of the party's propaganda chiefs in the Free City.

$187,200,000 More To Be Voted R.A.F.

LONDON (CP)—Great Britain will allot an additional $40,000,000 ($187,200,000) for her rapidly expanding air force this year, it was announced today.

This sum, contained in new supplementary estimates, brought the air aggregate for the year to £260,000,000 ($1,216,800,000).

Today's supplementary estimates—the third notification this week of additional rearmament expenditure—also included £144,000,000 for the new Supply Ministry. Of this amount, £30,000,000 will go to purchase munitions, and £12,000,000 for raw materials and reserve. The ministry will employ a staff of 7,000.

ORANGEMEN URGE EMPIRE SUPPORT

Canada Not Neutral Says Resolution Passed At Rally

VANCOUVER (CP)—Vancouver lodges of the Loyal Orange Association of British Columbia yesterday endorsed a resolution urging the Dominion Government to "proclaim to the world that Canada cannot remain neutral in any war in which Great Britain is involved."

Another resolution endorsed at a meeting held in Stanley Park urged the federal government to end the "influx" of Orientals into Canada.

A warning that the British Empire is "menaced from without by powerful forces and from within by insidious traitors" was given by W. G. Gamble of Victoria, past grand master of the order.

Mr. Gamble said the outlawed Irish Republican army is menacing the Empire by its activities. Numerous bombings and other disturbances in the Old Country recently have been laid to the I.R.A.

During the parade to Stanley Park white uniformed bandmen of the Enniskillen Lodge band played "Boysie Water." The Vancouver Scottish Pipe Band and the Ladies' Pipe Band added the skirl of pipe music as the marchers proceeded.

Many momentarily stopped work to watch the parade. Traffic along the route was halted.

Age Pensions Rejected

Japan Lists Demands

Tokio Cabinet Approves Army's Basis For Tientsin Talks With Britain

TOKIO (CP-Havas)—Japan's "fundamental demands" for settlement of the dispute with Great Britain over the British concession blockade at Tientsin were approved Thursday by the cabinet.

Meeting under chairmanship of Premier Kiichiro Hiranuma, the ministers approved a report by Foreign Minister Hachiro Arita on the Anglo-Japanese negotiations to open here Saturday.

Domai (Japanese news agency) listed the "fundamental demands" as follows:

1. Abandonment by Great Britain of its "anti-Japanese policy."
2. Anglo-Japanese co-operation at Tientsin in political and economic matters.

MONGOLIAN BORDER FIGHT DIES DOWN

A.P. Man Says Japanese Believe Main Battle Almost at End

By RUSSELL BRINES
Associated Press Foreign Staff With Japanese Troops at Hailar, Manchukuo (Delayed)—I rode in an army truck over rutty roads Wednesday with 12 wounded Manchukuan cavalrymen, part of a group of 50 being brought from the Mongolian war zone front to Hailar, about 100 miles to the north.

On the front itself, Japanese had driven most of the Soviet forces back west of the Khalka River and said they considered the main battle virtually over.

Some of the soldiers I rode with had machine gun wounds; others had been hit by shrapnel. They said they had been hurt in fighting west of Hailarharsh, a railroad head, and that about 30 were being wounded daily in their section of the front.

When the truck hit the big bumps they bit their lips or their fingers and said nothing. All were young.

At dawn we had seen Soviet-Mongolian and Japanese-Manchukuan fight pieces blasting at each other near where the Khorkhin River runs into the muddy Khalka on the Mongolian border.

The firing went on as we rode through field camps where sturdy soldiers called a welcome. Calm under shelling, they awaited orders to enter a battle whose purpose no one seemed able to explain.

On the roads we watched Japanese reinforcements, guns and supplies being pushed steadily toward the front, ready for whatever might come. A few tanks were hurrying west amid the many bouncing trucks. Japanese were shifting their bases constantly in fear of aerial attacks.

Through the day Soviet aircraft ranged eastward, bombing communication centres near Hailar. We saw at least four fresh bomb craters, 35 miles south of Hailar and five others near Changchung-miao.

Wednesday night the artillery duel was still in progress, but Japanese officers consider the battle of Nomonhan is finished.

NEW BOOK SCORES DICKENS' CONDUCT

Story of Daughter Who Died in 1929 Says He Had Affair With Actress

LONDON (CP)—A new book today quoted one of Charles Dickens' daughters as saying he was "a very wicked man" who, at 46, became the lover of an 18-year-old actress.

The volume, entitled "Dickens and Daughter," was written by Miss Gladys Storey, longtime friend of the late Mrs. Kate Perugini, one of the author's 11 children. Purportedly it is based on the daughter's memories of her father.

"More tragic and far-reaching in its effects was the association of Charles Dickens and Ellen Ternan and their resultant son (who died in infancy) than that of Nelson and Lady Hamilton and their daughter," wrote Miss Storey.

She recorded that Mrs. Perugini insisted that "the whole truth" be told after her death, saying: "This affair brought out all that was worst—all that was weakest—in him. He did not care a damn what happened to any of us. Nothing could surpass the misery and unhappiness of our home."

The book recounts that Dickens met Ellen Ternan through amateur theatricals in 1857, and, keeping an early agreement with his wife, told Mrs. Dickens he had fallen in love with another.

Mrs. Dickens left the author in 1858 after 22 years of married life. Miss Storey wrote that Dickens impressed on his family that his good name "was their best possession" and an effort was made to establish the separation as "by mutual consent, which Dickens brought himself to believe was right."

The wife was given a settlement of £600 yearly. Dickens also settled a sum on the young actress, who was established in a suburban residence. Miss Ternan in later years married a clergyman.

Mrs. Perugini, who was quoted as saying "I loved my father better than any man in the world... I loved him for his faults," died in 1929 at the age of 89.

Big Liberal Rally Aug. 8

Invitations to More Than 1,000 Clubs For Mackenzie King Banquet in Toronto

OTTAWA (CP)—Representatives of the rank and file of party workers from every province will be in Toronto August 8 for the National Liberal dinner and presentation to Prime Minister Mackenzie King, marking his completion of 20 years as leader.

Efforts are being made to have the gathering display a complete cross-section of the party in Canada. Invitations have been sent to more than 1,000 local Liberal clubs.

Mr. King was chosen leader of the Liberal Party at a national convention in Ottawa August 7, 1919, after three ballots. Other candidates for the leadership at that time were the late Hon. W. S. Fielding, Rt. Hon. George P. Graham of Brockville, Ont., now in the Senate, and the late Hon. D. D. Mackenzie.

Rt. Hon. Ernest Lapointe, Justice Minister, close friend of the Prime Minister, will preside at the banquet. Main features will be a presentation to Mr. King and his reply.

Hon. W. D. Euler, Trade Minister, one of the Ontario representatives in the cabinet, is honorary chairman of the banquet committee, and Senator Norman Lambert of Ottawa is honorary secretary.

In some quarters it is believed Mr. King will choose this occasion to make an announcement about the next general election. Whether he does or not the gathering will afford an opportunity for workers from all parts of the Dominion to discuss party prospects.

A committee of members of Parliament, one from each province, is assisting in organization. The names are: A. E. MacLean, Prince Edward Island; K. J. Cochrane, Nova Scotia; Burton M. Hill, New Brunswick; Thomas V. G. Weir, Manitoba; J. Fred Johnston, Saskatchewan; Hon. J. A. MacKinnon, Alberta, and Olof Hanson, British Columbia.

FORMER CABINET MINISTER DIES

Hon. W. G. Ernst Succumbs at Home in Nova Scotia

BRIDGEWATER, N.S. (CP)—Hon. William G. Ernst, K.C., 42, former Conservative Dominion Minister of Fisheries, died suddenly at his home last night.

Mr. Ernst, who held the fisheries ministry for a brief period preceding the 1935 general election, had been in apparent good health until a few moments before his death. He had been conducting his law practice as usual.

Dr. Daniel Marcus, called in when the former minister was stricken, said he believed death was caused by a heart attack.

Mr. Ernst sat through two sessions as member of the House of Commons for Queens-Lunenburg. He was elected in 1926 and again in 1930.

Prime Minister R. B. Bennett named him fisheries minister in August 1935, but the government was defeated in October of the same year, and Mr. Ernst also lost his seat.

Nazis Prepare Populace For Bombs From Air

By BRIAN TOBIN

BERLIN—If a German city is ever attacked by foreign bombing squadrons it will not be a helpless, panic-stricken populace that must suffer.

That, at any rate, is the determination of German air defence authorities. With characteristic thoroughness they have left nothing to chance in the organization of the Reich air raid defences.

An unceasing campaign to make the public air raid conscious has been carried on for some years. Posters, street demonstrations, window exhibitions, first aid classes and air raid defence schools have brought the point home to everyone.

"The air defence fighter has as much responsibility and as much honor as each soldier at the front" is the motto which appears on the instruction placard in the hallway of every Berlin apartment house.

The card gives a summary of the duties of citizens in regard to air defence. As general service, both men and women must take part in the periodic exercises and training sessions, keep the building free of inflammable litter and help in building the "schutzraum" or raid shelter.

In peace time they must keep tools and first aid equipment available, maintain appliances for darkening all lamps and windows and keep the shelter ready for use.

There are also detailed instructions on what to do before, during and after an air attack.

TOUGH ON HOUSE PORTERS

Stories are current of how at former drills everyone in the building has had to rush to the roof with bags of sand and buckets of water, and arrange them for use in case of fire. After the drill the unfortunate house porter has had to bring everything down again.

During the crisis last September many windows were covered with black paper screens in anticipation of "black-outs." Lamps emitting only a feeble glow were sold for household use. Lighting fixtures were equipped with hooks for attaching heavy shades. Some automobiles drove about with headlights hooded except for tiny slits.

On the door of every dwelling is a blue metal disc inscribed: "Member of the Reich Air Defence League." It signifies that the householder is taking part in the league activities and paying his monthly dues to the air defence fund.

"Air defence is national service, therefore each German must be a member of the Air Defence League," states the official notice in every building. On it are posted the names of the house steward and the block steward, who are responsible for the carrying out of all precautionary measures.

Every city housewife must sooner or later spend her two hours a week at the official courses in first aid and anti-gas technique.

Gas masks have not been issued to the public, but people are encouraged to buy them. The so-called "people's gas mask" is sold for RM 5, about one dollar. Many shops and offices keep masks on hand for the use of their employees. New buildings have special shelter rooms built in.

EIGHT-DAY COURSES

Near Wannsee, a popular lake resort on the outskirts of Berlin, a new school for air raid defence was recently opened. The latest developments in technical equipment and methods of gas defence are provided. The living accommodation is that of a high class summer resort.

Here gather classes of men who are called up to take eight-day courses in fire fighting, methods of gas decontamination, preparation of air raid shelters and similar work. They then become instructors in their own groups of the Air Defence League.

Somewhat similar is the Herman Goering Air Defence School, established at Nuremberg in 1936.

"There are several reasons why we gladly come here," says one of the pupils in the latest issue of the "Siren," the national air defence magazine. "First, one can never learn too much air defence. Second, Nuremberg is a splendid city to visit; and third, the good cooking of our school is famous throughout all Northern Bavaria."

Says another, "We work in air defence because we believe that through it we can best serve our German people and our National Socialist movement. That faith is everything."

"We have a task, which pays the highest rewards, namely to recruit and instruct the last German man and woman in the defence of the homeland."

This is typical of the highly

VANCOUVER SEEKS ELECTRIC CUTS

VANCOUVER (CP)—A special committee of the City Council yesterday decided to meet British Columbia Electric Railway officials next Tuesday, seeking five concessions in the city's present agreement with the company.

The committee will ask such concessions be included in renewal of the city-company contract for one year, after which the city intends to present its case for basic fare and power rates to the Provincial Public Utilities Commission.

Concessions were listed as reduction in school children's fares from the present eight tickets for 25 cents to 10 for 25 cents.

Sale of six-day passes for $1 and continuation of the present $1.25 seven-day pass.

Increase tentatively set at $25,000—in the $125,000 contribution the company makes the city annually for using streets for its rolling stock.

Continuance of a company program of modernizing street cars.

Increase of 225 to 250 in the number of passes granted to city officials and employees.

Confederation Anniversary

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister King yesterday said pressure of work requiring him to remain in Ottawa would prevent him attending the Confederation Conference anniversary in Charlottetown next week. Hon. T. A. Crerar, minister of mines and resources and senior member of the Privy Council, will represent the prime minister.

Encouragement in Canada

A FINE AND HEARTENING INTERVIEW with President S. H. Logan of the Canadian Bank of Commerce is published in the Toronto Star. With his finger on the country's pulse to a degree which his bank's connections all over the Dominion make possible, this conservative financier with all a banker's disinclination to make sweeping statements, says "there is hardly anything that does not look encouraging. There has been an appreciable upturn in business during the last month." His own institution experienced in that month a 5 per cent improvement in business, and "it is running right now about 92 per cent of the 1937 peak."

In the west "the moisture picture is perfect," with the likelihood of bumper crops. Mining is booming, new lumber mills are starting in British Columbia, and in central Canada a number of new industries are under way. Foreign capital is coming into the country. "Canada," Mr. Logan says, "has a splendid reputation for having a stable, safe government, and it has the confidence of business men all over the world."

Canada, it is also pointed out, is handicapped as other nations are by restriction of international trade. But she has her internal trade which is an important element in the return of prosperity. If her people buy goods up to the reasonable limit of their means to meet their normal requirements, internal trade is active, production stimulated and employment increased. The man who hoards beyond what ordinary thrift demands because of panic induced by recurrent alarms from Europe or because of lack of confidence in Canada is helping to create the very condition he fears. No country has a more assured future; in none is there more justification for wise, liberal spending by those who can afford it.

U.S. Foreign Policy

NOT A FEW PROMINENT INTERNATIONALISTS are commenting on suggestions from some quarters which appear to try to make out that the visit of King George and Queen Elizabeth to the United States will effect a substantial and immediate change in the neighboring republic's foreign policy. The general view of several American commentators is that nothing of a definite nature should be expected; they content themselves with the argument that the most sensible deduction to be made is that both nations recognize one another's stature and importance in a troubled world, that Britain and America, too, are good neighbors who can visit once in a while.

Writing in the Contemporary Review, Mr. S. K. Ratcliffe, an eminent British journalist and lecturer who knows the United States as well as he knows Britain, points out to both Great Britain and France the important fact that the United States is a republican democracy, apparently implying that in recent months especially it has undergone an experience in the conduct of foreign affairs not calculated to speed a change of policy, the emphasis to the warmth of British-American relations the Royal Visit may have lent notwithstanding. Mr. Ratcliffe readily admits that the people of the neighboring republic are, to an overwhelming extent, hostile in feeling to the totalitarian states. And he is convinced that they are today, more perhaps than at any time within memory, actively sympathetic with those European peoples which hold to the ideas and methods of political freedom. He then sounds this warning:

"But we should make an enormous mistake if we were to conclude that in consequence of this popular sympathy the French and British governments can count upon American agreement with their European policy. Nothing could be much farther from the truth. The public excitement throughout America in the autumn of 1938 was an extraordinary phenomenon."

"It was created in great part through a continuous broadcast commentary upon the news from Prague and other Central European centres—the most complete radio build-up in connection with international events that has so far been achieved. The unbroken service of news and exposition had seemed to be preparing the American public for a collective stand by the democratic powers, when the news of Munich destroyed the immense illusion."

While Mr. Ratcliffe does not consider it reasonable to expect another Munich, he makes this point clear: President Roosevelt's declaration and American public sentiment can be expected to merge in a foreign policy for the United States, only in so far as the governments of France and Britain give proof of their resolve to stand by the common heritage of free institutions and international good faith. In other words, the thinking people of the United States, although Mr. Ratcliffe does not say so, are far from sure that the attitude of the present British and French governments toward current events and trends is based on the sort of defence of democratic ideals which is likely to beget active American support.

Posies for the Mauler

THE FLOWERS JACK DEMPSEY RECEIVED on his sick-bed from blind children and bootblacks shed light on the personality of this former heavyweight champion, who is now able to go to Florida to recuperate. Many who have not come into personal contact with Dempsey probably still think of him as the Manassa Mauler, with the kick of a mule in each fist, a bruiser with no more sympathy for the weak and the helpless than Nero.

But when we read that 12 blind children with whom he posed for a photograph sent him a message and flowers and that the bootblacks around Madison Square Garden raised 75 cents and sent him a floral tribute with a note "to Jack Dempsey, from the shoe-shine kids around the Garden," it becomes apparent there is more to the Mauler than many had suspected.

Most of the popular good will towards Dempsey comes from what he has done since he lost his title of Heavyweight Champion of the World. He invested his purse money, went to work as a restaurant host, and lived up to his responsibilities to his wife and children. Nor did he use his fame solely for his own profit. He always could find time to show himself at a benefit. It is remarkable how he developed as a happy speaker at public functions of all kinds. As he did in the ring, he has never ceased giving less than his best. He has earned popularity as Jack Dempsey, the good citizen. To find that out, even by a bout with peripatetics, is a reward worth more than any purse or diamond belt.

Where They Belong

MEMBERS OF THE CITY COUNCIL UNDER the lead of Alderman Gadsden have voted to retain in the city archives articles used during the Royal Visit, including the signatures of the King and Queen in the visitors' book. There should never have been any doubt as to where these belonged. Their Majesties did not pay an official call at the City Hall to meet certain individuals in a private capacity, but to honor the people of Victoria through their elected representatives. When their Majesties signed their names there it was not with any idea that they were doing so for the satisfaction of a private autograph collector. Other cities across Canada have all recognized that the signatures were for the public archives. There should never have been any question of it here.

Now that that is settled, perhaps the aldermen may be able to get around to agreeing on a fitting disposal of the costly red carpet over which the women's organizations have become so exercised.

More and more the word "obey" is being deleted from the feminine half of the marriage vows. That term has been accorded about as much respect as an international treaty.

President Roosevelt hopes to pass this way on a trip to Alaska after Congress adjourns. Wrangling Congressmen would be happier if he'd bring a little Alaska to Washington before adjournment.

Queer Views On Trade

From Toronto Saturday Night

Dr. Manion seems also to have a misleading idea of the relation between a protective tariff and a tariff for revenue. He argues from the fact that the British tariff collects $25 per head while the Canadian collects only $8.50, that Great Britain is a highly protected nation as compared with Canada. The fact, of course, is that the more efficiently a tariff functions for the production of revenue, the less effective it is as a protector of domestic industry. The true protective tariff is that which excludes all imports and therefore produces no revenue. Most of the terms of the British tariff are of the opposite description, and produce a substantial revenue because they are not designed to exclude imports and protect domestic production.

Mr. Herridge's views about foreign trade are much simpler. We must not try to export things (he says "manufactured products," but the argument goes for any kind of product) which other countries can produce as naturally and as well as we. And we must not import products which we can produce as naturally and as well as other countries. It is simple as that. All that the government has to do is to decide what the things are that Canada can produce as well as anybody, and prevent their importation; and then to decide what the things are that other countries can produce as well as Canada, and prohibit their export. Just as simple as that. No question here of tariff for revenue or protection; you just post up a sign at the border, "No Exit" or "No Entrance" as the case may be, and there you are, with "the highest measure of economic self-sufficiency compatible with the maintenance of the highest possible standard of living."

We do not much like the idea of Canada's foreign trade being managed on the principle of either of these statements, though we have no doubt that if Dr. Manion got into power he would find himself a good finance minister and stop worrying about these abstruse problems. What sort of a finance minister Mr. Herridge would get we know not.

Loose Ends

By BRUCE HUTCHISON

IN THE GRIP

MOST OF US, being in the grip of the summer holiday fever, haven't noticed yet that America is in the grip of another economic revolution. The news from Washington means nothing less than this. What the boys are trying to build down there now is nothing less than a new kind of economic system.

That, of course, was the object of the real New Dealers from the start, but it took them a long time to sell the idea to Mr. Roosevelt. By then he couldn't turn back. He had to go on or abandon the whole thing and confess himself the greatest failure in American history. He is going on now much more rapidly than anyone had expected.

A couple of weeks ago I wrote a piece in this paper indicating that the New Deal was getting ready for another coup, but nobody, I suppose, paid any attention to it. I had thought, as the American politicians thought, that the coup would be prepared now and executed in 1940 to win the presidential election. But Roosevelt has taken the enemy by surprise again in a midnight attack. It looks as if he would win, as usual.

What he proposes is that the government shall, in fact, take over a large part of the banking system, make loans totaling $3,860,000,000 to industries and start building of everything on a gigantic scale.

THE END

ANY CAPITALIST CAN prove that this will be the end of capitalism if it is not stopped. Any socialist can prove that it cannot possibly work because it is not socialism. It fits no theory, conforms to no economic law. But Roosevelt doesn't seem to care. To the New Dealers (you can read it in their books) economic laws are merely a description of how men have done things in the past. They have no final validity in themselves and human society has never conformed to them and never will. It does what it has to do at the time and, afterwards, proclaims what it has done as a fixed law of economics.

The New Deal looks at the sorry state of American business and it says that the trouble is the lack of investment in capital goods, in factories, machines, railways, houses. When business is normal $18,000,000,000 a year are invested in capital goods. Now only $10,000,000,000 are going into them. So you have unemployment and depression.

THE KEY

HERE, OF COURSE, is the key to the whole economic system as every economist knows. That is, if exactly the right amount of the national income is going into capital goods and the right amount into wages and thence into consumer goods, the thing will work. The consumer has money to buy the output of the capital goods. How to keep this delicate balance?

The orthodox economist holds that it will establish itself by the fluctuation of prices, by the free play of forces and counter-forces, but it takes so long to establish itself that depressions last for years. So the New Deal proposes boldly to establish the balance itself, by borrowing the huge savings of the American people and loaning them to men who will use them to build and to create activity.

The process does not end there. It only begins there. For unless $3,860,000,000 sets business going permanently, creates an automatic balance that will endure, the state will have to pump in more money when this is exhausted. And every business man knows that is what Roosevelt proposes. He has said so himself. He has abandoned the temporary pump priming of the past. "Investment" by the state is to be a "permanent policy." The state is taking over the direction of the economic system as has never been attempted before in a democratic country.

The better papers of the United States call it a system of "state capitalism," the end of the old capitalism we have known. But the capitalism we have known ended, though we did not know it, when Roosevelt was elected. The New Deal doomed it from the start. Everything else has followed, step by step, until we now reach this bold, historic program of the state financing private business as a permanent policy.

CAN'T GO BACK

IT MAY NOT WORK, but does anyone imagine that the state can suddenly decide to give the whole idea up and go back to the policies of 1931, before Roosevelt came in? How can it extricate itself from the mesh of loans, regulations and controls it has established already? How can it withdraw from the huge mass it will make in the future? And how, having paid the piper, can it avoid calling the tune in the form of more regulations?

In a long period the state might withdraw from business. It did once before when feudalism died, but that took centuries. Things move faster now, but for the moment they are moving in the opposite direction.

On the Links

From Kentish Mercury

Once when Ted Ray was playing an amateur opponent, he was left at one hole with a putt of 18 inches, and rather expected the other to concede it. "Surely you don't want me to hole that!" he said. "No! I don't!" retorted the amateur. "But you just have a try all the same."

New Goldwynism

"I got into this argument with Sam Goldwyn," a film executive reports, "and Sam turned on me and shouted: 'For your information—let me ask you this question!'"

THE IMPERTURBABLE BRITON

Germany's Claim To Danzig

From Sydney Post-Record

AN ADMITTED moral difficulty in Britain's foreign policy respecting Danzig is that Germany's claim to that city has stronger sanctions than that which she successfully asserted against Czechoslovakia last September. No part of Czechoslovakia belonged to Germany before the war, whereas Danzig was the capital of Prussia, and had been German territory for more than a century when, by the Treaty of Versailles, it became a free city, or independent state, under the protection of the League of Nations. Moreover, 96 per cent of its population is German, as compared with only 18 per cent in the case of Czechoslovakia. Of course none of these considerations gives Germany any lawful claim or color of right to the possession of Danzig, but nevertheless Hitler is able to say, and does say with angry emphasis, that the rule of "appeasement" that gave him Sudetenland nine months ago should apply with far greater force to an adjustment of the Danzig situation.

DANZIG HAS NOT by any means always belonged to Germany. Away back in the period of the English Plantagenet kings—to trace its history no further—it was owned successfully by Poland, Denmark and the Teutonic Knights. It was then one of the four towns of the Hanseatic League. In 1455 it was ceded to Poland, and enjoyed the rights of a free city for centuries. In 1772, as a result of the first partition of Poland, Danzig was separated from that kingdom, and in 1793 passed into the possession of Prussia. In 1807 it was captured by the French and was again declared a free city by the Treaty of Tilsit, under the joint protection of France, Prussia and Saxony. It was finally given back to Prussia in 1814, and continued to be the chief city of that state till the close of the Great War in 1918.

CONTROLLING THE COWICHAN RIVER

From Cowichan Leader

After a great many years of representation and agitation, it would appear that definite steps are now under way to confine the Cowichan River to a proper course south of the White Bridge, and also to improve the lower reaches by clearing the channel.

The plan provides for cutting a new channel between the White and Black Bridges, thereby eliminating the danger of the river breaking through at high water and flooding into Koksilah. This danger has increased greatly during recent years.

The whole history of the river throughout the flats below Duncan has been one of changing channels and widening of the stream bed. This has meant the destruction of hundreds of acres of most valuable land and the shallowing of water in various places to such an extent as to prevent the free passage of salmon up the river from the sea, a factor contributing to the diminution of the salmon runs.

The Dominion and provincial departments, and the individuals concerned with the proposed plan, will have accomplished something of great value if the scheme is consummated and the river is successfully controlled.

ROYAL TOUR FILMS

To the Editor:—All the inquiries and discussions regarding the failure of the up-island children to see Their Majesties on the occasion of their visit to Victoria can do no good.

So it is now up to the powers that be to see that the units concerned shall be given the chance to view the forthcoming film portraying the whole Canadian and American tour free of charge, with transportation if necessary. This is a very simple matter as there are picture houses at Courtenay, Nanaimo, Alberni and Duncan. The children having been to Beacon Hill can view this particular part of the picture with knowledge and added interest.

Germany's Claim To Danzig

The present free city of Danzig with its environs has an area of 791 square miles, and is divided for administrative purposes into a number of municipalities and districts. The population of the whole state, as ascertained in the 1924 census, numbered 385,000 people, of whom all but 4 per cent were reported to be Germans. Two-thirds of the people are Protestants and one-third Roman Catholic.

POLAND'S RIGHTS in Danzig under the scheme set up by authority of the Treaty of Versailles are in no sense sovereign nor even political but are exclusively economic, assuring her free and uninterrupted access to the sea. The harbor and waterways are administered by a commission consisting of five nominees of Danzig and Poland under a president, who must be of Swiss nationality and appointed by the Council of the League of Nations. If Danzig and Poland cannot agree on his selection. The administration of Danzig's railways forms part of the Polish state railway management, Danzig's special interests being protected by a representative of the free city on the directorate of the Polish railways.

WHAT HITLER is after is the return of Danzig to Germany and its complete political incorporation in the German Reich. But he offers to give Poland access to the sea through the city, and otherwise to guarantee that state such economic privileges as may be necessary for the unrestricted flow of its overseas trade. So far Poland has declined the Fuehrer's overtures, and if he applies military force to gain his ends, he will get into direct conflict with Britain and France and thus precipitate another great European war. This would be inevitable under the terms of the Anglo-French guarantee to Poland, insuring the integrity of her territorial rights, as well as her position in Danzig, against military aggression.

"DYING A DOG'S DEATH"

To the Editor:—Seldom, out here, is it possible to let pets die of old age. There generally comes the heart-breaking hour when someone must decide on the "last, long sleep."

There are four ways of doing this.—the SPCA lethal chamber; anaesthetising and poisoning by a veterinarian; electrocution as formerly practised at the City Pound; and shooting by an expert shot. Of these, the last is the only sure, instantaneous, and painless way of saying goodbye. . . . "Sayonara" . . . to a wistful, faithful pal.

The electrocution comes next for swift and sure passing. The terror of being shut into a box, the horror of slow suffocation in the so-called "lethal" chamber, should be widely recognised. The London Times, about three years back, published terrible stories, (sworn to in Court) or results.

As for "sending it to a vet," which numerous kind-hearted people honestly believe humane, not even the most expert surgeon knows how any animal will react to this ugly business.

A friend some distance away recently had to part with a dog, and, unable to secure a reliable shot, engaged a highly qualified vet to call and administer the anaesthetising method. Far from being swift, painless, sure, this was neither. Tears streamed down the face of the semi-conscious dog; delirium seized him; it took three times the anaesthetic, three times the poison, to silence that gallant, trusting heart, releasing it to pass, with cries and moans, out of this cruel dream of human stupidity into the calm haven of endless life.

Shooting is the only right way. It does achieve instantaneous, painless freedom, leaving the shattered owner with no bitter hatred or agony of sorrow.

RANDOM THOUGHTS

When I go walking down the street I gaze in faces that I meet And from each one I try to find The record they have left behind.

That grand old man with hair so white, He always tried to do the right, And now in his declining years The future for him has no fears.

In contrast is the village bum, A victim to the demon rum, He has no friends, no kith or kin, His only thought, a drink of gin.

The weary mother, child at breast, At last asleep at perfect rest, Where can we match a mother's love? The only place, in Heaven above.

A junior bank clerk, tall and slim, There's nothing common about him. Pardon me if I seem rude, Here is the making of a dude.

The maiden lady, neat and trim, Wondering what became of him; She's independent, also free, She might be worse, it seems to me.

That pretty girl, with tired face, Trying her best to stand the pace, I don't think she realizes, Her youth and health she jeopardizes.

A millionaire appears on scene, Driven in a limousine, I wonder if he's happier now Than when he walked behind a plow?

Here comes a man who's only aim Is to make trouble, friends de-fame, If someone took him for a ride, Justifiable homicide.

But surely you have had enough Of all this nonsense but true stuff, All human faces tell a tale, That raises interest without fail.

Urges 'Ghost' Dads For Nameless Babes

NEW YORK—Dr. Mary Halton believes every child born out of wedlock should be provided with a "legitimate" birth certificate. To that end, her Committee for Equal Rights for Babies will attempt to amend the United States constitution.

"All men are created free and equal. No state shall make or enforce any law which shall abridge this privilege of citizens of the United States of America," Dr. Halton reads off her proposed amendment.

"Do you know," asks this well known New York woman physician, "that at present, on the birth certificate of an illegitimate child, the space for 'Father,' full name, has to be left blank unless the father gives his consent to write in his name?"

"My idea is this: That the child's mother be permitted to write in the 'Father' space a fictitious name of a 'ghost father,' provided she never knew a man of any such name. The fact that it would be fictitious would prevent blackmail.

"The mother could choose any name at all and any fictitious address or she could give, for the father's, her own address.

"At any rate, it would provide the child with a birth certificate, his first legal document in life, which would be irrefragable."

Dr. Halton scorns the notion that such protection of children born out of wedlock might promote immorality.

"The immoral don't have babies," she reports. "They take precautions. If a woman has gone through with the troublesome process of giving birth to a child, in or out of wedlock, she might be permitted then to give that child the protection of a proper certificate."

The archaic form of the birth certificate is evident by a glance at the wording, for example, of question 13, pertaining to the occupation of father.

Dr. Halton has worked in other campaigns which ended in victory. She was a suffrage leader, worked in the birth control movements from the beginning, and was active in the fight to permit teachers who became mothers to get maternity leave and later return to their professions.

WEDDINGS

MILLER-LAFON

Simplicity marked the marriage in Shaughnessy United Church, Vancouver, yesterday afternoon which united Patsy Riker, daughter of Mr. John and the late Mrs. Lafon, to Mr. Dwight O. Miller, son of Mr. A. H. Miller of Pasadena, Cal., and the late Mrs. Miller.

Rev. G. P. McLeod performed the ceremony. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a light wool crepe frock of soft grey with white starched pique shirtwaist collar and cuffs on the below-the-elbow sleeves. Her off-the-face hat of white panama was trimmed in brown grosgrain ribbon and had a brown veil, the brown ribbon repeated on the small cluster of white stephanotis which she carried. Her accessories were brown.

BRIDE HAS VICTORIA ATTENDANT

Miss Louisa Cameron, Victoria, attended the bride. She wore a two-piece frock in chartreuse crepe with pleated skirt and horizontally tucked blouse. Her small close-fitting hat was of white grosgrain ribbon, and she carried lily of the valley.

Mr. Keith Shattuck of South Pasadena attended the groom. A reception at the home of the bride's father on Minto Crescent followed the ceremony. Mrs. E. J. C. Stewart, sister of the bride, received the guests, in a printed silk frock in turquoise and white.

When Mr. and Mrs. Miller left to motor to Harrison Hot Springs, the bride donned over her wedding ensemble a fitted coat of light brown wool. They will reside in South Pasadena.

Even Fish Thief Busy, And It's Not a cat

WINNIPEG — Goldfish thefts which have puzzled police and Fort Rouge residents alike took a more serious turn when Mrs. F. Sures reported 80 fish stolen from a large pool in the garden of her home at 1021 Wellington Crescent.

Mrs. Sures checked her pool when she read of the other piscatorial disappearances Friday. Of a pool stocked with 82 goldfish, only two were left. The survivors had wounds on their backs as though inflicted by a sharp instrument.

Mrs. Sures valued her fish at $45. "The pool is 30 inches deep so it doesn't look as though cats were responsible," one member of the Sures family said.

Honoring Mrs. A. D. Durnford of Montreal, who is the guest of her sisters, the Misses Lena and Muriel Galt, St. Charles Street, and Miss J. Ramsay, Montreal, who is staying with Miss Kate Galt, Pemberton Road; Mrs. M. S. Durand entertained yesterday at an informal buffet luncheon at her home on Rockland Avenue.

IF HE WANTS REAL CREAM OF TOMATO SOUP BE SURE IT'S HEINZ

Men love the definite, distinctive taste of this real Cream of Tomato Soup. It gives them the flavour of pedigree, red-ripe tomatoes—Heinz "aristocrats". Made with real cream—thick, rich, appetizing. Pure, fragrant, oriental spices add their tang and zest.

"Homemade" methods—cooking in small batches and sealing fresh and hot from the shining kettles place Heinz Soups in a class by themselves. To serve simply heat and pour into plates.

Marriage Hopes Spoil Careers

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The age-old feminine dream of being a white princess in an ivory tower may ruin a promising career as a business executive or successful professional woman. A tendency on the part of young working women to consider their period of employment merely as an interval of waiting until the right man comes along was mentioned as a cause of mediocrity by Dr. Viva Boothe, Columbus, O., acting director of the Bureau of Business Research at Ohio State University.

Dr. Boothe is attending the biennial convention of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, Inc. "There is a feeling in the heart of every girl," Dr. Boothe said, "that some day her Prince Charming will come along."

Debutantes Wait At Palace Gates

LONDON (CP)—Debutantes on their way to be presented to the King and Queen at the fourth court this year found Buckingham Palace gates tardy in opening last night and had to drive around the palace for more than an hour.

Crowds gathered to watch the parade of luxurious town cars wind slowly through The Mall, Bird-cage Walk and the Horse Guards Parade. An hour and a half later police allowed the cars to proceed in a steady stream through the palace gates.

Then the 800 guests had to wait another hour before the main palace doors were opened.

It is our responsibility to make sure that the people's government is in condition to carry out the people's will, promptly, effectively, without waste or lost motion.—President Roosevelt, speaking on government reorganization.

Queen's Clothes Not for Ordinary Women, Stylists Find

CALGARY—The Queen is back in England, but her memory lingers on. After her visit to Canada and New York, Joseph L. Myler, British United Press writer, questioned Fifth Avenue stylists on their reactions to Her Majesty's clothes, and reports they seemed agreed that her costumes lacked that something known as "oomph," says a British United Press dispatch to the Calgary Herald.

Aware that their words constituted lese-majesty, most of them said, "Don't quote me," and went on to add such treasonable remarks as:

"The Queen's clothes are—ah—matronly."

"Most women will prefer to copy the Duchess of Kent or Windsor. Trimmer, you know."

"Elegant, pretty, dignified and all that, but definitely not smart."

But don't think that the Queen's hats and gowns—off the face, in the one instance and off the ankle in the other—won't have "tremendous influence on women."

"They will have just that," said the stylist of a skyscraper place on the avenue.

"The Queen's graciousness and beauty," she added, "will bring back a type of woman who has been obscured by the fashions of recent years—the elegant, graceful, feminine, lady-like woman."

She said you could expect a revival of garden teas, formal receptions and the like, attended by women wearing long dresses, big hats with ostrich feathers on them and carrying fluffy parasols.

Another fashion expert—from an intimate little place where people like Brenda Diana Duff Frazier go to shop—disagreed.

"Would women copy the Queen's dresses?"

"Of course not," she said. "She's a queen. If other women go around trying to look like queens they'll succeed only in looking silly."

An expensive hat designer, on the other hand, reported that a woman came bustling in after the Queen's visit and demanded an exact copy of her hat—the one with flowers.

"She was a middle-aged woman," the hat designer said.

The Queen's visit was a great stimulus to trade and competition in any event, the latter becoming a trifle pointed on occasion.

One shop featured dresses designed by Norman Hartnell, the Queen's own dressmaker. Another, near by, displayed gowns like the Queen's, by our own designer. A third offered royalty red lipstick, while a fourth reached even higher for its inspiration and displayed dresses of angel white.

New Designs Aid Women to Become Wool Conscious

By ROBERT WILLIAMSON

LONDON — It is astonishing how wool-conscious women have become in regard to fashion, and how various are the ways in which wool fabrics are being used.

For wool is now featured by all leading designers not only for the classic tailored suit and topcoat, but for chic afternoon dresses, for summer and winter, for evening gowns, for m. suits, beach wear and lingerie (though aons apart from the old-time scarlet flannel) of fairy-like texture and colorings.

Talking of colors in wool fabrics, I saw one delightful material from a Yorkshire mill which had had in no fewer than 280 shades. It has been chosen by many leading dress designers for their new season's smartest models.

Royal Tour "Rockies" and "Montreal" Blue.

Some of the colors which will be featured in the advance wool fashions are Manchu brown, a rich reddish-brown, green, both light and dark, among them a delightful shade of Olivine, fern green, and the darker Kent and almost black cypress greens, any of which are exceptionally smart allied with black; blues (there is a lovely lightish foam shade) and a dark blue with an undertone almost of purple, white, memories of the Royal tour are to be maintained by the lighter Rockies and the slightly darker Montreal blue. For evening wear one hears of an orangeish tone of pink and sunset, coral and azalea pinks. Then scarlet will cut a dash (when seen allied with town or smart resort dresses) especially for the always modish town wear, or introduced in chic white dresses to be worn at resorts. The darker tones of chrysanthemum and red are others of the newest colors which are to be featured in wool fabrics.

COATS IN BLACK BROADCLOTH

As regards the texture of the new fabrics, it will tend towards smooth-surface velour finishes, with velvety duvetyn surface, and velours-de-laine and thick wool-plush and thick soft blanket woolens. Also thin fine wool crepe for day dresses to be worn under coats (black broadcloth will be a new season's note for coats) and the old-style serge will be revived. The smart alliance of plaids and checks with plain wool materials for tailored suits will be much worn, but stripes will not be so popular as they have been. The thin wools will tuck and pleat perfectly, and jerseys will drape delightfully for evening gowns.

Clubwomen's News

Craigflower Women's Institute will hold the regular meeting tomorrow at 2 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Clair.

Primrose Lodge No. 32 held a garden party recently at the home of Mrs. E. Ostler, Doncaster Drive. It was opened by Worthy District Deputy Mrs. A. James, who was presented with an arm bouquet of roses and sweet peas by the worthy president, Mrs. A. Edmonds. Others receiving flowers were Mrs. A. Edmonds, Mrs. P. Humbert, Mrs. E. Biscenden, Mrs. E. Ostler. The next meeting will be held July 21 at 8 in the Sons of England Hall.

The regular business meeting of Princess Patricia Lodge No. 238, Daughters of St. George, was held Friday evening in the K. of C. Hall, the worthy president, Mrs. E. Duncan, presiding. Owing to the illness of Mrs. Mason the garden party, which will be opened by Mrs. H. Muckle, will be held at the home of Mrs. C. W. Morris, 1246 Acton Street, July 26. There will be home cooking, candy, plain and fancy sewing stalls. Plans were made for an excursion in August. Mrs. Tisdale was welcomed back after a long illness. The next meeting will be held July 21, followed by a card game and shower for the garden party. Members are asked to bring refreshments.

Sir William Henry Perkin, whose centenary was celebrated in 1938, is considered the father of the synthetic organic chemical industry.

SYDNEY (CP) — As Australia's summer closed, hundreds of women attending a semi-official garden party here determined to be seasonal and wear autumn garb, sweltered in furs under a blazing sun.

Peter Arno Divorced, May Marry Brenda

LITCHFIELD, Conn. — Peter Arno's society wife, Mary (Timmie) Lansing Arno, obtained a divorce from the cartoonist here June 23 on grounds of intolerable cruelty, it was learned today.

The decree was granted by Judge Robert L. Munger after a five-minute hearing from which all but attorneys, witnesses and court officials were barred. The decree did not include provisions for alimony or property settlement.

ALL SWORN TO SECRECY

Even the court stenographer was sworn to secrecy as to just what evidence Timmie and two witnesses offered. Only an incautious word from Mrs. Arno's attorney, Robert Wall, last May, indicated the grounds on which she was suing. He said then that the suit was based on cruelty, including "physical cruelty."

Mrs. Arno, now living with her parents at Salisbury, Conn., emphatically denied any matrimonial plans and scouted reports that Commander Jimmy Dugdale, a former aide de camp of the Duke of Windsor, was a serious suitor for her hand.

Arno has been seen frequently with glamour-girl Brenda Frazier. He did not contest his wife's suit.

They were married August 9, 1934, at the home of her parents, Col. and Mrs. Cleveland Cox, in Salisbury.

The spirit of justice and forgiveness which Woodrow Wilson had advocated was not fully maintained when the terms of (World War) peace were carried out.—Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace, dedicating League of Nations building at New York World's Fair.

Recalls Forming Of Confederation

Nonagenarian Will Play Leading Role in P.E.I. Celebration

By DONALD V. COVEY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

SOURIS, P.E.I. (CP)—Mrs. Artemas Lord of this King's County centre, 94-year-old daughter of one of the Fathers of Confederation, will be a link with the past when she takes part in the confederation celebrations at Charlottetown next week.

Daughter of Col. John Hamilton Gray, Mrs. Lord is the last surviving attendant at the conference held in Charlottetown September 1, 1864, which gave Prince Edward Island's capital the proud title, "cradle of confederation." She also journeyed to Quebec with her father October 10 of the same year where further plans were laid for the formation of a nation.

Although Mrs. Lord nears the century mark today, she is still the charming lady and hostess of years gone by. She is active, well-versed in current events, and still finds the time and energy to care for the sick in her community.

She recalls vividly every exciting day in the years preceding confederation.

Today she lives surrounded with pieces of fine old furniture with pictures and china and many things that have been collected in the far corners of the earth by members of her family.

Sunny Sooke, with its wealth of green hills, rolling farmlands, woodland trails and sandy beaches, has a wide appeal for summer holiday seekers. Within its comparatively small area is a network of scenic roads that rival all others on Vancouver Island. In its delightful countryside, everything in the way of an outdoor vacation is to be found, combined with the pleasure of perfect little summer resorts and guest farmhouses. For a day, a week or a longer vacation, no spot on Vancouver Island could offer more than Sooke.

WINDING ROADS

Following the Metochia and Albert Head roads along the waterfront, the East Sooke Highway turns in a wide curve through cool woodlands to the popular resorts of Glenairley and Sea-Girt. Wild daisies, blue lupins, the white plumes of spiraea, with here and there a glimpse of the sunny waters of Sooke Harbor, make the winding curves of the Gillespie Crossroad a delighful adventure. The main Sooke Road rambles through thick woods and trees to Sunny-Shores Auto Camp and Sassenos, with its lovely summer homes, then follows the shoreline to the Sooke
River and to Woodside Farm.
Crossing these three roads are many trails that lead to bits of streams and beaches too numerous to mention.

Sooke Harbor, about three miles long and two miles across,
is almost completely landlocked.
Whiffen Spit protects the quiet waters from the full force of the Straits of Juan de Fuca, leaving only one deep channel for the passing of boats and for the water to ebb and flow. Beyond the spit the Sooke River empties to the sea. It is on the warm sheltered waters of the inner harbor, with its many sandy beaches, that the holiday seeker finds Sooke's popular summer resorts. Both harbor and river are well known to the fishing fraternity.

EAST SOOKE

Glenairley—A very popular resort on the acreage of a famous old Sooke farm. The inn is of a rambling English countryside style, and there is a lovely old-fashioned garden. Every form of summer amusement is here—
horseback riding, swimming, boating, tennis, badminton, archery, even an indoor games room.
Delicious meals with fresh fruits and produce from the home farm.
Glenairley has a great appeal for young people. It also offers relaxation and ease for those who wish it. There is plenty of room to rest and be quiet in a secluded corner of the farm.

Sea-Girt—Almost at the end of the East Sooke Road. A pretty white farmhouse in a lovely old orchard with acreage stretching right down to the shore. The water is warm. Perfect for swimming and with a safe beach for children. Airy, comfortable rooms; cool summer dining-rooms.

Delicious home-cooked meals. A restful spot for tired mothers.
Boats for hire.

WEST SOOKE

Sunny-Shores Auto Camp—Perfect location near Sassenos. Just off the highway in a grassy parkland surrounded by tall fir trees, stretching right down to the shore and beach. Brown-stained cabins and cottages, nicely furnished and comfortable. A nine-hole putting green for dad. Good beach, warm sea bathing. Picnic grounds for the day visitor with rustic tables and chairs. Also a children's playground. Ideal holiday spot. Very reasonable.

Woodside Farm—Where the Sooke Road merges with the Jordan River Highway. A big, hospitable guest farmhouse with many windows and wide verandas, standing in a well-treed garden surrounded by rolling green fields and grasslands.
Woodside Farm is a delightful place to visit for an afternoon or for a longer holiday. It is the perfect spot to recuperate from an illness or to regain pep and vigor after a year's work at business or in a home. There are trails down to the shore and up through the woods. Also many summer activities. The big, airy rooms are comfortable and well-furnished. A kindly air of well-being rests over the whole place, making it just the right spot for a perfect holiday. Woodside Farm is famous for its delicious meals.
Fresh fruits and vegetables, cream, butter, cheese and eggs are all on the farm. Chicken dinners are a specialty, also afternoon teas.

Ribs serve to strengthen the body walls against outside pressure, yet whales, which are able to withstand a body pressure of hundreds of pounds per square inch, have only nine pairs of ribs, less than any other mammal on earth.

The Rothamstead experimental station, England, in studying the standardization of fruits and vegetables, has developed cucumbers of a standard length of eight inches and without curves.

Outdoor Holiday
At Wall Beach

Among the many delightful smaller vacation spots on Vancouver Island is the little summer community of Wall Beach, between Nanossee Bay and Parksville. Off the main highway about two and a half miles, this almost landlocked bay has a quiet charm that appeals to young and old alike and offers everyone a grand outdoor vacation. There is a wide sandy beach, perfectly safe for children. The water is warm and clean and out beyond the sandbar there is splendid swimming and fishing.

ATTRACTIVE CAMPS

Wall Beach has a modern and up-to-the-minute auto camp, situated in a beautiful grove of spreading cedar trees. The combined odor of clean cedar and salt air is a tonic that brings restored energy to tired vacation seekers. The cottages are well arranged, with wide windows and good-sized verandas. All are nicely furnished. Each and every one has its own bit of ground and plenty of privacy. There are rolling green fields surrounding the camp where children may romp and play. Boats are for hire.

For that relaxed outdoor holiday that everyone plans to have at least once in a lifetime, Wall Beach is just right. It is quite close to city amusements, yet far enough off the beaten path to seem almost a little community alone. There are many pleasant trails around the bay and motor roads from the beach to every point of interest on northern Vancouver Island.

McGavin who, with Aldermen W. H. Davies and D.D. McTavish represented the city on the trip. Standing at the extreme left is O. H. Olson, president of the Olympia Club. Other Victorians in the picture include; Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Stickley, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. M. Foot, Harold M. Diggon, Percy Waters, Cleve G. White, Harry Curry, Austin I. Robert Stanley of Pensacola, Fla., who set altitude record for gliders when caught in thunder cloud at National Soaring Contest over Elmira, N.Y., looks at proof of his accomplishment—13,400 feet, as recorded by barograph. Upward current of storm shot Stanley's plane skyward in sudden rush that forced pilot through back of seat. Previous altitude mark was 6,700 feet.

FORMER KAISER TOASTS NEIGHBORS—Apparently paying little attention to the European situation the ex-Emperor of Germany, remains contented at Doorn, the Netherlands, having recently celebrated his 80th birthday. On that occasion the residents of Doorn presented him with a summer house and in the above photo Wilhelm extends his thanks in a toast to his neighbors and friends.

ANGRY GOALIE PEPPERS PEEPER—Walter "Turk" Broda, goalkeeper of the Maple Leafs, leaped through the window of his Wasaga Beach, Ont., cottage, July 10, at a prowler, who escaped, but returned after midnight. Turk peppered him with a rifle. Here he assures his bride she is safe now.

FASTEST CAT HE EVER CHASED—That's a cheetah out in front of the greyhound, and he left the speed demon of the canine world practically standing at the post in a recent feature race at Aldershot, England. The spotted kitty was substituted for the usual mechanical rabbit, and in two seconds, from a standing start, was going 45 miles an hour.

U.S. NAVY POURS 4,000 TARS ASHORE TO ENLIVEN QUEBEC CITY—The New York, the Texas and the Arkansas, three U.S. battleships, steamed up the St. Lawrence with a 21-gun salute, answered by guns from the citadel, where Lord Tweedsmuir, Governor-General of Canada, is in residence. On board were 4,000 sailors and 1,300 midshipmen from United States Naval Academy, Annapolis. The Texas is seen docking, top left, after being towed to Wolfe's dock. Everything appears to be shipshape, but there's still a detail or two to be figured out, and Commander E. L. Woodside of the Texas examines a suggestion for smoothing out a knotty problem, lower. The commander's biggest chore has been hand-shaking with Canada's naval men. Here's the Texas as she lies at anchor, her decks crowded with sailors. This shot, right, shows the series of decks, the intricate maze of rods and wires, the tower, the guns, and over all the fresh white paint gleaming in the sunlight. The sailors enjoy open house at practically every naval and military club in Quebec, and they can ride free on street cars and ferries.

SOMEBODY'S BIG FEET IN THE WAY—It's never good taste to step on the bride's train at a wedding, but one can never always tell what one's feet are going to do. When the Duke of Spoleto of Italy married Princess Irene of Greece, momentary consternation was caused when the princess found her progress into the church impeded by a train of her gown that refused to follow. Someone had stepped on it, but the bad move made a good picture as she looked back to see what was going on. The royal marriage took place in Florence, Greece's reigning monarch, King George giving the bride away.

GOOSE-STEP, ITALIAN STYLE—While visiting Nazi officers admire guard at entrance of Palace of Venice in Rome gives demonstration of goose-step, imported by Italy from friendly Germany. And none can deny that guard has learned march mode to high kick of perfection.

Oarsmen Ready For Big Meet

Sports Mirror

By PETE SALLAWAY

CHOICE of 11 managers in both major baseball leagues, William Barney McCoskey of the Detroit Tigers stands as the most promising rookie prospect of the 1939 season, according to a poll recently completed. Thirteen of the 16 big league managers participated in the balloting, each listing 10 choices.

Hitting well above the .300 mark, this 21-year-old outfielder is the pride and joy of the automobile city, for it was on the sand-lots of his home town of Detroit that Barney got his first taste of baseball. Nor was his climb to the top any cinch. Threatened with shipment to Toledo with a batch of recruits during spring training, the youngster staged such a dramatic and spectacular batting campaign that Manager Del Baker was forced to include him among his regulars. He wasn't disappointed.

For second choice among the freshmen a dead heat exists with Charlie Keller and Atley Donald of the New York Yankees and Teddy Williams of the Boston Red Sox each collecting 10 of the 13 votes.

Manager Joe McCarthy of the world champions ranks Donald, his rookie pitcher, first on the list, with Keller second and Williams third. A good right-hander, Donald hails from Louisiana and recently hung up his 10th straight victory of the season in taking over the Washington Senators. Charlie Keller, a Yankee outfielder, "is one newcomer who is living up to all the fine things they wrote about him in the lower company," comments Manager Joe, who adds that "there isn't a more consistent freshman in the major leagues."

Mentioned earlier in the season as the new president of the Fireballs Aid Society, Teddy Williams of the Red Sox soon belied his title, straightened out when Manager Joe Cronin gave him a fatherly talk for throwing the ball over the fence in a spring exhibition game down in Georgia after miffing an easy hit. "Ted's a great kid," says Cronin. "You've got to be patient with him. He has outfield instinct, a fine eye for the flight of a ball and will become a grand outfielder. His hitting is fine, too."

Close on the heels of the second choices is another Red Sox recruit, Jim Tabor, who received nine votes. Jim recently equalled the home run record for two consecutive games when he poked out four circuit clouts against the Philadelphia Athletics, two of them with the bases loaded. Somewhat of a recalcitrant, the 23-year-old third baseman is nevertheless well liked. "He's rough and ready and nothing interests him but baseball," says the Sox pilot.

In fourth place are two other Bostonians, each with seven votes. Eddie Miller, promising Bees shortstop, leads the National League recruits and might have received even more consideration but for the fact that the three managers who failed to take part in the nationwide poll are all National Leaguers. Miller is tied with Woodrow Rich, Red Sox pitcher. An inkling as to Miller's ability was clearly evident in early spring training and now as then, Manager Casey Stengel ranks this 22-year-old Lebanon, Pa., youth first on his list. Of Rich, Manager Cronin says, "He showed so much stuff in the spring I had to go along with him and so far he hasn't made many mistakes." John Henry Kramer, with six votes, ranks fifth on the list. The 21-year-old St. Louis Browns twirler is termed the "new Waite Hoyt" by Manager Fred Haney.

GOLF MATCH POSTPONED

The Comox Golf Club vs. Victoria Golf Club match scheduled for Sunday has been postponed until July 23, it was announced today.

Annual Two-day N.P.A.A.O. Regatta at Elk Lake Tomorrow

Members of the Vancouver Rowing Club arrived in town today and were out bright and early on Elk Lake for a workout to keep themselves in trim form for the opening of the two-day N.P.A.A.O. regatta which will be held on the lake course tomorrow and Saturday.

The Vancouver crews ran off with the lion's share of the silverware last year, but according to local officials the J.B.A.A. scullers will be out to give them a lot stiffer brand of competition this year.

The Victoria oarsmen have been put through stiff training schedules by Coach Dan Moses for the last few weeks and are in good shape for the grueling water grinds. Victoria's main ambition this year is to whip Vancouver in the senior fours and the eights, the highlight races in the big meet and, of course, the aggregate honors.

SENIOR CREWS

J. MacDonald, D. Davis, C. Usher and J. Temple will comprise the crew that will carry the Victoria colors into the senior fours battle and on the local spare list for this grind are A. Mann, M. Winkler and F. H. Francis. They will go up against a Vancouver crew selected from J. Slater, M. McLeod, J. Robertson, W. Bishop, W. Rush and D. Walls.

While the Vancouver crew for the senior eights campaign has not been announced yet, it was learned today for the first time that there will definitely be a Vancouver entry in this classic. Victoria will have J. Temple, C. Usher, D. Davis, J. MacDonald, B. Mair, W. Winkler, D. Mowat and F. N. Francis on hand. Spares will be A. D. Roberts, P. Morgan, F. Parker and F. Crouch.

Tomorrow will see the junior events run off and the senior competition will be held Saturday, with competition opening at 2 each day.

20 Riders Will Perform Tonight

Professionals and Amateur Pedal-pushers Appear On Bike Program

More than 20 riders, including three professionals of the "big time" led by Torchy Peden, will participate in the second bike meet to be staged by the Victoria Cycle Racing Club tonight at the cyclodrome on Douglas Street at Burnside Road. The first event will start promptly at 7.

The pine saucer got its first taste of competitive riding, two weeks ago and the crowd of almost 1,000 enjoyed the show.

There will be seven competitive events on tonight's card and an exhibition of the various phases of six-day bike riding by Torchy and Claude Peden and Lew Rush.

While Vancouver riders were invited to take part in the meet no entries had been received by secretary George Robinson this morning. However, with the pick of local pedal-pushers taking part, the show should provide lots of excitement.

The complete program follows: Five laps, boys under 14; six-lap sprint race; eight lap handicap race, boys under 17; unlimited distance race; one-mile pursuit race, boys under 16; three match races; two five-lap sprints; one-mile pursuit; one-lap time trial (flying start); 10-mile time race.

Wyatt Drops First

Sensational Rookie Pitcher of Brooklyn Beaten By Pittsburgh 3 to 0

It is a pleasure to report that fireman Mace Brown is still as good as ever at putting out those four-alarm blazes.

The Pittsburgh smoke-eater didn't have a chance to run his hook and ladder curve and control out on the all-star field at Yankee Stadium Tuesday, like he did in Cincinnati last year, but he made up for it last night as the Pirates knocked off Brooklyn Dodgers with a 3 to 0 coat of whitewashing before a crowd of 29,481 in the only game in the major league program.

Fireman Brown's latest job of answering the alarm was to put the chill, convincingly and completely, on Whitey Wyatt, who has been just about the hottest newcomer to come to the National League since Johnny Vander Meer.

Wyatt had won eight straight up to last night and hadn't been beaten in the National League campaigning. So the fireman, who was famous for that sort of thing himself in 51 games, or about one-third of the entire schedule, last year, came-a-running. He gave up just six hits. The victory boosted the Bucs into a fifth-place tie with Brooklyn.

Both sides of the big leagues got down to the serious work today of getting the second half of the schedule under way.

COAST LEAGUE
Their first loss in 11 games hasn't taken any fire out of the Sacramento Senators, who still are knocking loudly on the first division door in the Coast Baseball League.

Sacramento's 3 to 1 loss to San Francisco Seals at San Francisco last night dropped the Senators a half game from their tie with Oakland for fourth place, as the Oaks divided a double bill with Portland.

Sam Gibson, veteran San Francisco right-hander, kept Sacramento's seven hits well scattered.

while his mates got seven hits off Al Sherer, three of them in the seventh when two runs crossed the plate.

The Senators' loss ended a winning streak that had reached 10 games, with a 13-inning tie thrown in.

At Portland, Oakland won the first half of a twin bill with the last-place Beavers, 3 to 4, but dropped the seven-inning nightcap 5 to 3.

Seattle's second-place Rainiers pulled out a 4 to 3 win over seventh-place Hollywood in the 10th inning at Seattle when Joe Coscarart cracked out a line drive with the bases loaded and two out, scoring Edo Vanni.

It was the 16th victory of the season for Dick "Kewpie" Barrett, Seattle's ace right-hander. At Los Angeles, the league leading Angels came from behind to beat San Diego 9 to 8.

Runyan In Eights

Defending Champion Gains Quarterfinals In U.S. Open Golf; Dark Horses Win

NEW YORK (AP)—Paul Runyan, fighting tooth and nail, to avert defeat on his 31st birthday, battled his way into the quarterfinal round in defence of his United States P.G.A. golf championship yesterday, but had to share the day's honors at the Pomonok Country Club with the man he met today, and two fast-moving "dark horses."

Shooting consistent rather than spectacular golf on a day when birds were as common as Japanese beetles, "Little Poison" beat back Ben Hogan, 26-year-old former Texan, who works at a neighboring club in White Plains, N.Y., 2 and 1. He thus moved into the bracket opposite Dick Metz of Lake Forest, Ill., for the handsome westerner, runner-up to Ralph Guldahl in the United States open last year, trampled cigar-smoking Billy Burke, who won the open in 1931, 6 and 4.

EIGHT UNDER PAR
But down in the lower half of the draw appeared two survivors whose standing as contenders became progressively better from day to day. One was E. J. "Dutch" Harrison, string-bean Arkansan by way of Oak Park, Ill., who finished 27 holes eight under par for a 10-and-9 rout of red-headed Bruce Colter of Hadonfield, N.J.

The other was Ermerick Kocsis, Orion, Mich., newcomer to top-flight competition, who looks 28, probably is 35 and claims he is 45 years old. Kocsis, one of the few players who did not sign the petition that brought, Denny Shute into the tournament over the protests of the tournament committee, followed that up by knocking Denny, who is unemployed at present, out of the competition, 3 and 2.

Today Harrison met the brother of his boss at Oak Park, Ill., Horton Smith. Horton put on the finest rally by winning eight consecutive holes in the morning after being 5 down, to pull out a 4 and 2 triumph over Clarence Doser of Ardmore, Pa., who beat Guldahl Tuesday.

NOKSIS ADVANCES
Kocsis' next assignment is to tackle Byron Nelson, the United States open champion, who built up a 7-up margin on Johnny Revolta, 1935 pro champ, in the first 15 holes and, despite a slight slump in the afternoon, won by 6 and 4.

The other two berths in the upper half of the draw went to Henry Picard, who has won more money this year than any other pro, and Rod Munday, Runyan's assistant. Picard won at 8 and 7 from Al Watrous, 40-year-old veteran from Birmingham, Mich., who collapsed on the sixth green in the afternoon from what doctors diagnosed as a combination of too many cold drinks and too much heat. Munday, carving three shots off par with an afternoon 69, lasted to nose out Tom O'Connor, from Yardley, Pa., 2 up.

Teaching Track To Youngsters

Coach Archie McKinnon And Flying "Y" Team Starts New Undertaking

The Flying "Y" track and field squad has started something new this week. At the Tuesday evening workout at the High School grounds a number of youngsters were taken into the fold to learn the fundamentals of track and field under Coach Archie McKinnon.

The team practices every Tuesday and Thursday evening at 5.30, and Saturday afternoons at 2.30. It is expected that other young enthusiasts, both boys and girls, will turn out this evening in addition to those who started Tuesday.

The special undertaking by Coach McKinnon has been made possible due to the fact that most of the senior members of the team are working out on Monday, Wednesday and Friday mornings. Considerable time is left the coach to teach the youngsters on the evening work-outs as a result.

Since the Flying "Y"s' outstanding performances at the recent Trail and Vancouver track and field meets, further interest is being shown by Victorians in the team's activities. The team's next major undertaking will be the Victoria Highland Games' Association second annual gathering which presents nearly 25 track and field events. The meet will be staged at MacDonald Park only July 29 and will attract entries from all parts of the island and Vancouver.

A strong and large entry is being groomed for the meet, Coach McKinnon said today, in both the senior and junior sections.

Piles Go Quick

With Dr. Leonhardt's Prescription

Many sufferers from itching, bleeding or protruding piles have found out that quick relief can be had with an internal medicine.

Bad circulation of blood in the lower bowel is the cause of piles. The veins are congested and flabby, the bowel walls weak. That is why an internal medicine like HEM-ROID should be used. HEM-ROID stimulates the circulation, relieves the pressure of blood in the veins of the lower bowel and helps to heal and restore the sore, tender parts.

HEM-ROID is the prescription of Dr. J. R. Leonhardt, who spent several years of his professional life in finding the cause of piles and the medicine that would remove them. His medicine succeeds because it leads to correct the cause.

No matter what kind of piles you have or how long you have had them, if you want to try HEM-ROID, you have our promise to give you back your money if you do not find quick relief and satisfying results, after using just one bottle.

MacFarlane and Vancouver Drug Stores or any druggist can supply you.

NEW YORK (AP) — Larry White, manager of Fred Apostoli, who is recognized in this state as world middleweight champion, yesterday turned down any consideration of a fight in Seattle before Apostoli's title battle with Cefarino Garcia here September 12.

White said promoter Nate Druxman wanted Apostoli to appear in Seattle in an over-the-weight match against an opponent to be selected later. Druxman, who was added, also wanted to "walk over" a title bout in Seattle between Apostoli and Al Hostak, who is recognized as the 160-pound king everywhere but in New York and California.

Apostoli, however, is tied up for the rest of the summer and early fall, White informed Druxman.

Winner of Conn-Bettina Battle to be Declared Light-heavy Champ

NEW YORK (AP) — A successor to John Henry Lewis as ruler of the light-heavyweight division in the United States may be crowned tonight when Mello Bettina of Bacon, N.Y., and Billy Conn, sensational young Pittsburgher, clash here over the 15-round route.

Bettina, already the champion in this state, also will be recognized by the National Boxing Association if he trims Conn. The N.B.A. and New York State Athletic Commission ruled out Lewis because of falling eyesight. Both bodies will give Conn their O.K. if he is successful.

Great Britain will dissent for Len Harvey won British recognition by outpointing Jock McAvoy Monday.

Conn, who leaped into prominence with two spectacular midweight fights with Fred Apostoli, will be making his debut in the 175-pound division.

PAST VS. PRESENT

SPEEDWAY RACES SATURDAY NIGHT

Auto racing is on the menu for thrill-cravers Saturday at the Langford Speedway when the management presents another international meet with Seattle and local cars and their drivers on hand.

Bert Sutton, local No. 1 car driver, will be in the thick of things as usual with the No. 2 car driver under control of Jimmy Laird, Frank Holderidge No. 3, Digger Caldwell No. 5, Jerry Vantreight No. 7, Tarzan Carson No. 8, Jim Wells No. 9, Joe Moore No. 10 and Green.

The classes will be held twice weekly on Tuesdays and Thursdays at 2 at either MacDonald Park or the University School starting next Tuesday with Reg Wenman and F. A. Sparks in charge. The first class will be held at the University School.

No charge will be made and it is hoped that all cricketers in Victoria will endeavor to interest boys in this opportunity.

All-Stars to Meet Chemainus

Local Baseball Nine Oppose Up-islanders Here Saturday; Athletics Win

All even in four games, Victoria and Chemainus all-star baseball nines will resume their intercity diamond feud Saturday at the Athletic Park when they meet in a two-game series.

Games will start at 2.30 and 6. Manager Fred McGinnis' Victoria All-Stars recently walked off with the Hon. John Hart Cup in the international series with Port Angeles and the local boss is quite confident his boys can turn back the up-islanders two-straight Saturday. The Chemainus boys are good diamond workers, however, and the Victorians will find it no easy task to beat them.

Lloyd Cann, who hogtied Chemainus with a no-hit, no-run performance in one of the earlier games, will be available for Saturday's series as will Ray Maitland and Stan Davies a pair of good mound performers.

ATHLETICS WIDEN LEAD

Manager Tommy Restell's Athletics extended their lead to two full games over the second-place Eagles in the Rithet Cup series last night by turning back Pitzer and Nex, 8 to 4, at the Athletic Park.

Behind the seven-hit twirling of Sonny Walker, Restell's boys turned in a smart errorless exhibition and really looked like champions. The A's will tackle Eagles tomorrow night at the enclosure and if they score another victory it will practically clinch the top berth for them in the city championship race.

Pitzer and Nex lost last night's ball game in the first three frames when costly boots in the outer garden enabled the A's to run up five tallies. After the early blow-up, the gammen came back to play good ball but were unable to pull the game out of the fire.

Young Fred Acres worked on the hillock for Pitzer and Nex. He was got to for nine safe hits. He kept them well-scattered, but the A's took advantage of his teammates' bobbles to keep moving around the cushions.

Bert Nex, making his comeback after a three-year layoff, laced into Sonny Walker's offerings lustily to head the batting averages with Bill Pollard of the Athletics. They peaked safeties three times in four trips to the plate.

Score by innings:
Athletics ..... 0 2 3 0 1 1 0 0—8
Pitzer and Nex 0 0 0 1 0 1 0 2—4

SECOND DIVISION
Tonight are as follows:
Pitzer and Nex vs. Cubs, Oak Bay Park; Scroggs.

Cedar Hill Athletics vs. Eagles, Beacon Hill; Malcolm.
Games start at 6.15 o'clock.

The party journeyed to Port Angeles and drove down the Olympic Peninsula to the state capital in a caravan of seven cars headed by a state highway patrol motorcycle escort.

At the Olympia luncheon Griff I. Griffith, past district governor of the Kiwanis Pacific Northwest District, presided, and extended greetings to the visitors. For the Victorians, President Curtis expressed thanks and referred to the similarity of ideals among Kiwanis on both sides of the line.

Official state greetings were conveyed by William Gallagher, state treasurer, and Mayor McGavin replied, extending an invitation to the clubmen to attend the district convention in Victoria in September. Convention plans were outlined by Harold M. Diggon, in charge of Victoria arrangements.

O. H. Olson, president of the Olympia club, Darrell Spence and Ralph D. Matthews, both of Victoria, also spoke.

During their stay the visitors were taken through State Capitol Buildings and the Olympic Breweries. Most of the Victorians returned to Victoria last night while a few remained for a short visit in Seattle.

Fighting Fox Race Winner

Captures $50,000 Massachusetts Handicap By Quarter-length

BOSTON (AP) — William Woodward's four-year-old fighting Fox gained the greatest triumph of his career yesterday when he led 11 rivals all the way in the $50,000 added Massachusetts handicap at Suffolk Downs and finished the 1¼ miles test a quarter-length in front of J. H. Louchheim's Pompoon.

While returning the winner's share of $49,250 to his owner and $31, $15.40 and $11.60 to his backers, the bay son of Sir Gallahad III turned the distance in 1:52 flat on a track sloppy from a sudden shower.

Three lengths behind Pompoon came another longshot, the Shandon Farm's Burning Star, which gained show money in a photo finish with the 7 to 1 favorite, W. L. Brann's three-year-old Challeon, the Preakness winner making his first start against older horses.

Fighting Fox, which set a new track record for Empire's 5¼ distance last Saturday, took command of the rich stake as he drew clear rounding the first turn.

KISS YOUR TIRED FEELING GOODBYE!

Pepples Many Suffer Low Blood Count—And Don't Know It.

The baffling thing about low blood count is that you can weigh about as much as you ever did—even look healthy and strong, yet you can feel as if you had lead in your legs, dopey, tired and pepples.

Low blood count means you haven't got enough red blood corpuscles. It is their vital job to carry life-giving oxygen from your lungs throughout your body. And just as it takes oxygen to explode gasoline in your car, you must have plenty of oxygen to explode the energy in your body and give you going power.

Get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills today. They are world-famous for the help they give in increasing the number and strength of red corpuscles. Then with your blood count up, you'll feel like bounding up the stairs as if you were floating on air. Ask your druggist for Dr. Williams' Pink Pills today.

Danzig—Will It Be War Spark?

European dispatches again point to Danzig as focal point in next big strength test of European powers. Map, above, shows distances in miles and flying time of important capitals from crisis centre of Europe's militaristic chess game.

Concentric circles show estimated flying time from various capitals to Danzig at air speed of 200 miles per hour.

DANZIG TODAY is literally "in the middle."

Should the long-feared European war break out with a clash over the possession of this ancient city, it would probably find itself immediately the point of convergence of military planes from the European countries involved. Over such a focal point, vast air conflicts could begin almost immediately.

Danzig is only 175 miles, less than an hour's bombing time, from Warsaw, the Polish capital, and only 250 miles, perhaps an hour and 15 minutes from Berlin. And both Poland and Germany have great air fields much closer to Danzig than these distances. In fact, it seems likely that either country could place Danzig beneath a shower of bombs in less than a half hour.

From Moscow, Paris and London it is roughly 800 miles to Danzig, which means that, in less than four hours, bombers from the great air forces of those countries could be over Danzig, and the time and distance to Rome is scarcely greater.

WOBBLY DANZIG

Assuming that Danzig became the spark in the European arsenal, a brief but sharp physical struggle for possession of the city which is today nominally neither Polish nor German, but a free city, might be the first "curtain raiser" to the European tragedy. But its "in-the-middle" position suggests that a very few days after the first bomb fell there might be no more Danzig.

The present wobbly status of Danzig as a free city is just one more of the Versailles solutions which is being questioned today.

The problem was simple. Poland was being created. It could not exist, economically, without an outlet to the sea assured to its commerce. The only practicable

Wigwams and Grass Houses

Seventy years ago, people heard a great deal about "the wild Indians of the western plains." This is the main reason why a certain legend grew up, a legend which said the teepee, or animal-skin tent, was the common dwelling of the North American Indians. Teepees were the usual homes of Indians of the plains, but were not used in most sections.

Outside and inside views of a Wichita Indian grass house. (After H. L. Madison).

Tribes which had teepees lived chiefly between the Rocky Mountains on the west and Hudson Bay and the Mississippi River on the east.

Nearly all the Indians elsewhere on our continent built homes of other kinds. Most of them lived and died without ever seeing a teepee.

Bark wigwams were the common homes from Nova Scotia to Virginia, and westward through the Great Lakes region.

The wigwams of the Iroquois were larger than those of most tribes. Sometimes they were 18 to 20 feet wide, and from 75 to 100 feet long. Bark was cut from trees to fasten over a wooden framework.

Another kind of Indian home was the grass house. It was used by Wichita Indians, and by tribes related to the Wichita.

The city of Wichita was named after these Indians, and some of them once lived in a section of Kansas. Most of the grass houses, however, were built in Oklahoma, Arkansas and parts of Louisiana and Texas.

If you could go back and watch a Wichita home being built, this is about what you would see:

The house-building Indians would mark out a circle roughly 30 feet wide. Then they would put eight posts in the ground, in the line of the circle, with equal spaces between them. The posts would rise about 14 feet from the ground.

The next step was to place long beams on the tops of the posts. Then the "ribs" were added. There were about 60 ribs, each one a long sapling. The saplings were set in the ground at points about four feet outside the circle. They were bent over toward the centre, where their tops were tied together. They also were fastened with willow cords to the beams between the posts.

On this framework the Wichita Indians fastened bundles of grass until they covered it. Thus they finished their "grass house."

Inside a grass house, at the centre of the floor, was the place of the bonfire. Above it was a hole in the roof which served as a chimney. There were beds or "bunks" in the house, sometimes one above another.

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

DEAR MISS DIX—I think there should be a law passed prohibiting grass widows from monopolizing young bachelors who would make fine husbands for girls who need them. Our town is full of middle-aged women who have divorced their husbands and collected alimony and who have started out to attract all the opposite sex available. They have pretty homes in which they can keep open house and entertain at all hours without the neighbors gossiping, and in this way they take all the young fellows away from the girls. They flatter the boys' vanity and feed them and have the poor, dumb creatures sold on them. What chance does a girl have against these hypnotizers?

SUSAN.

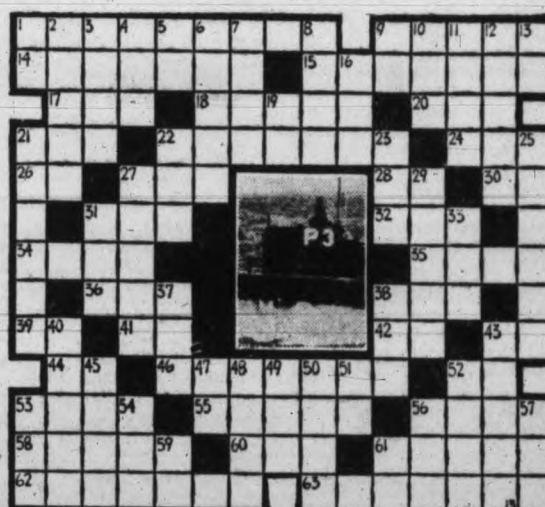

Answer: It is a sad story, daughter, and you have my sympathy. For in truth it is hard for unsophisticated girls to compete with mature women of the world. It is the professional against the amateur and that is what makes widows, whether they are grass or sod, so dangerous. You see, no matter whether they got along with their husbands or divorced them, they learned about men from them and that knowledge stands them in good stead when they want to attract other men.

This superior technique puts the young girl at a disadvantage. But inasmuch as she can't get out an injunction against the widow using her charms, the best thing you debs can do is to study it and try to copy it.

You have already observed that the widows entertain men a great deal. Get the meaning of that. It means that they know that a woman is never so attractive to men as she is against the background of her own home. It means that men like to go to a place where there is good food, easy chairs and a fire on the hearth, quiet and comfort and restfulness. It means that young men who haven't much money like to go to places where they are not called on to spend more than they can afford.

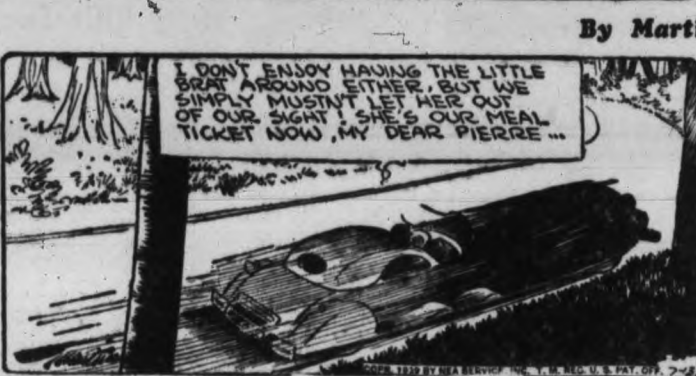

Borrow a few of the widow's tactics and see if you can't beat her at her own game, because you have two great advantages she lacks—youth and looks.

To Write Stories On Life in B.C.

Mona Gardner Here From
New York to Work and
Meet Her Children

To gather material for a series of special articles on British Columbia for Collier's Magazine and to meet her children on their arrival from the Orient, Mrs. David Tait came to Victoria this week and is the guest of her uncle and aunt, Capt. and Mrs. W. E. Gardner at "Raynham," Elk Lake.

As Mona Gardner, Mrs. Tait is a well-known writer, having turned out many stories for North American magazines during her long residence in Tokyo.

She left Japan a year ago, traveled extensively in China, where she interviewed leaders of government at Hankow, visited French Indo-China and then continued to India where she interviewed Gandhi. Her stories went to well-known magazines and were syndicated to many papers by the North American Newspaper Alliance.

While traveling in southern Asia she wrote a book which she called "The Menacing Sun," and which has just been published by Harcourt, Brace and Company. It has to do with Japanese penetration in Asia, and already shows promise of becoming a best seller.

Her children, Alan, 11, and Janet, 10, were born in Japan and had never set foot in North America until they arrived Monday by Ss. Empress of Russia and were met by their mother.

"They are thrilled with it here," Mrs. Tait said. "It's the strangest thing for them to see so many white people on the streets. They can't understand it at all."

Both youngsters speak perfect Japanese.

Young Alan shows every indication of following in his mother's literary footsteps. He wrote a story on a visit he made to a Japanese volcano and it was accepted and will be published in a New York magazine this month.

Mrs. Tait and her children will leave next week for New York where they will make their home.

DANCERS THRILL SUMMER SCHOOL

Timhar and Jarnac Give Recital; Ellen Repp to Sing Next Week

Two distinguished young dancers, David Timhar and Dorothy Jarnac, this morning thrilled teachers attending the Summer School of Education with a recital of dances of a wide variety of type to the music of famous composers.

Their appearance was a return engagement, following the success of one of their recitals at last year's school.

Timhar and Jarnac have appeared as soloists with the New York Metropolitan Opera Company, the Hollywood Ballet and the San Francisco Opera Company, and have danced in a number of moving pictures including "The Girl of the Golden West" and "Marie Antoinette."

Another return engagement has been announced for next week's extra-curricular program. Ellen Repp, young Norwegian-American contralto whose United States appearances were climaxed in January with a concert in New York's famous Town Hall, will sing at the summer school on Wednesday.

ORANGEMEN HOLD ANNUAL PICNIC

Orangemen and Orangewomen of Victoria, Saanich and Duncan celebrated the "Glorious Twelfth" yesterday at a basket picnic at Island View Beach under the auspices of the Victoria County Lodge.

A good representation was seen from all three districts and a varied program of sports and other entertainments was enjoyed throughout the day.

The picnicers left town by a large fleet of buses and private cars at 10 in the morning and the affair lasted all day winding up at night with an old-time and modern dance in the Orange Hall.

It was the first time the annual picnic was staged at Island View Beach and the site proved popular. Ernest Keatley, master of Victoria County Lodge, was general convener.

Many at Rotary Club Luncheon

Over 200 Rotarians From Port Angeles, Duncan
And Victoria Meet

The Empress Hotel ballroom accommodated one of the largest luncheon parties it has seen for many a day when over 200 Rotarians and their wives, mainly from Port Angeles, Duncan, Victoria, held an intercity meeting today.

Walter Luney, newly installed president of the local group, presided in the chair. He welcomed the visitors and introduced the president of the Port Angeles club, Dr. Donald Black.

H. A. "Jack" Ferris, Port Angeles, introduced his club members to the rest of the gathering prior to presenting an interesting program of entertainment by members and their wives of the neighboring city group.

Herbert Pollock gave vocal renditions of "Deep in the Valley" and "Only a Rose," which were enthusiastically applauded. Mrs. George Treadwell entertained with violin selections, "Aria" and "Sweet Mystery of Life." The accompanist for both artists was Mrs. Otto Kocman. Following a dance section of the program, presented by pupils of Mrs. Dorothy Wilson's dancing school, Henry Fehly, Port Angeles, showed colored moving pictures of the recent Rotary International Convention in Juneau, Alaska.

Tiny June Day and Joan Sidwell were the hit of the dancing part of the program with a rhythm tap duet. An act, "Funny Old Hills," in which Elaine Hart sang the lyrics to that piece, to be joined in a tap dance by Gloria Tubman and Audrey Draper, was also popular with the audience. Geraldine Paterson and Myra Batchelor entertained with a Spanish dance. Miss Virginia Ryan accompanied the dancers at the piano.

Hindu Deportations Being Protested

Dr. D. P. Pandia, former private secretary to Mahatma Gandhi, and member of the National Congress of India, will protest to the immigration and colonization branch of the Department of Mines and Resources against the threatened deportation of between 35 and 40 natives of India now living in Canada, according to information received by representatives of the East Indian community in Victoria.

Now in Ottawa, Dr. Pandia is reported to be making a check on all East Indians who are living in Canada.

Dr. Pandia, who recently visited Victoria and is expected to return here later to continue his investigations, declared in Ottawa that despite the fact that more than 1,500,000 people from India had served the Empire in various theatres of war, a handful of East Indian residents of British Columbia were being gradually deported, some of whom had served in the Indian army.

He claimed that East Indian residents of British Columbia should at least be accorded the same treatment as that given to the Japanese. "Canada permits 150 Japanese to settle in the Dominion each year, but is deporting East Indians for a minor infraction of the immigration laws," Dr. Pandia said.

He said he did not know what Imperial route he would be placed on "but I hope I'll get on the proposed Pacific run between Victoria and New Zealand there's so much talk of these days."

Pilot Small recently visited New York where he was interviewed by Imperial Airways officials. He will leave Canadian Airways at the end of this week. ## Reforestation Plans Drafted

Early Start on City's Goldstream Watershed
Planting Indicated

Plans for an early start on the reforestation of the Goldstream watershed, as recommended by the Victoria section of the Canadian Society of Forest Engineers, were announced today by Alderman J. A. Worthington, chairman of the city's water board.

Alderman Worthington, with G. M. Irwin, city water commissioner, and Gordon Godwin, of the forest engineers, inspected the watershed area last week-end and mapped out a campaign for the renewal of forests in that region logged off, and left virtually a barren waste during recent years.

The proposal to replant the terrain was advanced by the Victoria Section of the C.S.F.E. following voluntary, independent work by its members.

A report on the region, submitted at the conclusion of a survey of the district, was accepted by the city and led to allocation of $500 to a special fund to carry on part of the work on a 240-acre tract.

The city's next move in the scheme will be to approach the provincial government with a request for small trees. Such trees are available from the provincial farms.

NEED REFORESTATION

"The necessity of maintaining a forest cover on this area regulating run-off and controlling erosion is self evident," the report from the forest engineers states.

"There is no reason why in future years the city should not derive revenue from the sale of forest products at such time that the Goldstream Community Forest, scientifically managed, yields firewood, fence-posts and poles from thinnings, and in 60 or 80 years, another timber crop, this time so cut that prompt, natural regeneration is assured,"

Pilot N. E. "Molly" Small, well-known British Columbia flyer who has been piloting a Canadian Airways, Limited, machine between here and Vancouver for the past several months, today said he had received confirmation of his appointment to the staff of Imperial Airways Limited.

"Molly," who was also known in British Columbia rugby circles, said he would get three or four months' training in the Imperial Airways school at Southampton, England, both in piloting the company's big flying boats and in aerial navigation.

Cutworm Menace On Prairies Less

OTTAWA (CP)—For the first time since 1923 it is probable no area in the prairie provinces will suffer a severe infestation of pale western cutworms during 1940, according to a statement from H. L. Seamans of the Dominion entomological laboratory at Lethbridge, released today by the Dominion Department of Agriculture.

The pale western cutworm has caused extensive losses to crops in different parts of Saskatchewan and Alberta each year since 1923. A fairly extensive outbreak, he said, was forecast for this year provided the season was dry, but the abundant and timely rainfall has greatly reduced crop losses, even though the cutworms were fairly abundant in several areas.

If the 1940 season is very dry, Mr. Seamans forecasts, a very light infestation may be expected in northern Saskatchewan around Saskatoon, Humboldt and Melville. In Alberta the insect may be present in small areas within a 10-mile radius of Bow Island.

Ambulance Head Visits Victoria

Col. A. E. Snell Sees
Improvement in First Aid
At Lumber Camps

Having inspected various first aid groups on the island prior to arriving in the city last evening, Col. A. E. Snell, director of ambulance in Canada of the St. John Ambulance Association, noted an improved interest in first aid in lumber camps, especially around Duncan.

The first aid interest in camps near Duncan was well organized and a greater appreciation of the value of first aid knowledge was being felt. Dr. G. W. Blissett and Major-Gen. Sir Ernest Walker, both of Duncan, were doing great work for the association.

G. H. Stevens, president of the British Columbia council of the association, and H. W. Edwards, honorary secretary, both of Victoria, drove to the up-island town last evening to accompany Col. Snell here.

Col. Snell was scheduled to inspect a group of junior first aid men here this morning, but this was canceled. This afternoon and tomorrow he was scheduled to inspect teams from the Victoria Centre, St. John Ambulance Brigade and Nursing Division and the 13th Field Ambulance, first aid and home nursing competitions.

Tomorrow evening Col. Snell will be guest at a dinner meeting of the officers of the British Columbia Council and Victoria Centre in Spencer's dining-room at 6.15.

Col. Snell was here last year. He has long been identified with official medical and ambulance services. He served in France as assistant director of medical services with the Third Canadian Division and was mentioned in dispatches five times. Following the war he became director-general of the Canadian Army Medical Services.

SINGLE MEN GET DEFERRED PAY

Deferred pay cheques issued to single unemployed men leaving the government's summer forest camps may be cashed at any branch of the Bank of Commerce in Canada, relief department officials said today, explaining that this will enable the men to travel the country seeking work.

Purpose of the government's new summer plan for single men is to give them small allowances for eight weeks during which they can look for employment. As the cheques can be cashed anywhere in Canada the men can look for harvest jobs on the prairies or work in other provinces, they said.

First groups of men who have completed six weeks in camp and earned their deferred pay are leaving this week. Gradually the camps will be closed until some 1,400 men are released. After eight weeks out of camp they are then eligible to apply for readmission.

Mortgage Bank Act Reviewed

Realtors Told of
New Legislation for Debt Adjustment

Provisions of the Central Mortgage Bank Act, which will become law in Canada tomorrow, were reviewed by Hubert Lethaby, secretary of the Real Estate Board, at the board's regular luncheon in Spencer's dining-room today.

Mr. Lethaby discussed the organization of the mortgage bank under the act and the personnel of its directorate and dealt with eligibility of member companies which must be incorporated concerns under Dominion or provincial laws.

The act provides for the renewal of old mortgages with member companies at adjusted rates of interest on adjusted values of farms and homes. All arrears of interest in excess of two years are written off and renewed mortgages are taken over long-term periods. Provision is also made for the reduction of mortgages by 20 per cent.

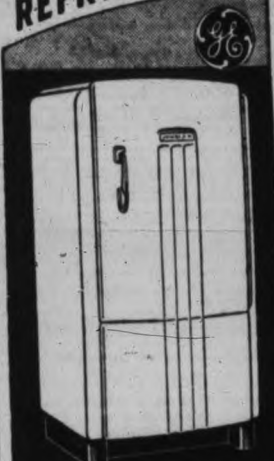

W. H. Bosley, president of the Ontario Association of Real Estate Boards, attended the luncheon and spoke briefly, extending greetings from his organization.

Two of the important regulations governing the projects are that they must be work schemes that would otherwise be deferred by municipal councils, and that the Dominion-provincial contribution of labor costs applies only to the employment of relief men. Thus, it was explained, only certain types of projects can be accepted.

Officials estimate that if the entire fund is taken up, it will set in operation a municipal works scheme totaling around $2,000,000. Under the plan, while the governments pay for labor costs, the municipalities must supply materials.

The whole fund does not represent increased expenditure, it was stated, because the governments will save part of the labor costs in reduced relief costs.

LEADERSHIP LEAGUE OFFICES CLOSED

Cost of C. George McCullagh's Venture More Than $100,000

TORONTO (CP) — C. George McCullagh, president and publisher of the Globe and Mail, announced last night the executive offices of the Leadership League, organized this year under the Globe and Mail's sponsorship, were being closed.

At the same time Mr. McCullagh expressed hope the branches of the league would "continue their activities independently, and exert their influence in the selection of candidates who will place country before party."

(The Leadership League's formation was announced by Mr. McCullagh February 13, after a series of radio addresses on political subjects.)

The publisher said a letter had been mailed to every member of the league, outlining reasons for the decision to close the executive offices. He also said his doctor had ordered him to take a "complete rest."

NO CANDIDATES

The letter said that to sponsor candidates in an election "would be a complete departure from the function I intended the league to fulfill." It said at another point: "It is beyond the financial ability of any one individual to support an organization such as the league."

"In all probability we are facing a federal election this autumn, at which time you will be given the opportunity to review the record of the present administration, together with the platforms of the Conservative Party, the C.C.F. Party and other minor groups," Mr. McCullagh's letter said in part.

The league was meant to provide a continuing interest on the part of an aroused electorate, so that you would be able to appraise more intelligently the political doctrines of the day.

BORE ALL EXPENSES

"The entire expenses associated with the radio broadcasts and the formation of the Leadership League, amounting to approximately $75,000, were borne by the Globe and Mail. At a meeting on March 15 I turned the Leadership League over to the public, under a temporary advisory board, headed by Dr. H. A. Bruce, with the expectation that other prominent and public-spirited men would support the necessary organization work with their energy and money.

"Outside of a comparatively few, they have failed in this regard, and of approximately $30,000 organization expenses in connection with the executive offices of the League, only some $300 has come from the public. The Globe and Mail and myself are paying this additional money rather than have the League become the tool of any interests which would convert it into something which I, its founder, never intended."

METEORITE SOLD FOR $4 IN ONTARIO

Chatham Doctor and Oil Prospector Gets 88-pound Fragment

DRESDEN, Ont. (CP) — Dr. Luke Smith, Chatham oil prospector, has bought $4 an 88-pound meteorite found on Dan Solomon's farm.

The sale gave a commercial value to the meteorite that struck fear and speculation among thousands of Ontario and Ohio residents Tuesday evening as it hurtled earthward in a blaze of flame, leaving a trail of smoke.

What Dr. Smith got was just a little fragment of the meteorite, but Professor C. A. Chant, director emeritus of the Davis Dunlap Observatory at Toronto, said it might be worth upwards to $200.

Solomon, a negro, was glad to get rid of the meteorite, because it gave his wife quite a scare when it landed 200 yards from her in a beet field.

In the meantime Bruce Cummings, A. B. Scott, George Highgate and Henry Lozen, farmers living within a mile of the Solomon place, are waiting for offers for the meteorites that fell on their land.

The Cummings meteorite landed in a beet field and nicked off two beets before it halted several inches below the surface. The Lozen specimen dug its three pounds into a pasture field.

Dr. Chant said the fact smaller pieces were found on adjoining farms strengthened the belief the Solomon meteorite was genuine.

The largest meteorite Dr. Chant could remember having been dug up in Ontario was one weighing 27 pounds, found at Shelburne. An 88-pound meteorite, he said, would rank up with the best, but not quite in a class with an 800-pounder found in Missouri.

"I looked up and saw a luminous ball getting nearer," Mrs. Solomon said in describing the meteorite. "Near us it seemed to stop and there was slight explosion."

Something shot out of the main mass, Mrs. Solomon said. It whined "like an airplane running with its engine off." A column of yellow smoke rose for two hours from the hole where the stone landed and the hole was rimmed with white ash.

Screen Family Acquires Riches

'The Hardys Ride High,' 6th of Remarkable Series, Now at Atlas

The screen saga of a family against the world, yet with it and distinctly a part of it, continues in "The Hardys Ride High," sixth of this remarkable series, which opened today at the Atlas Theatre. Successful primarily because of their human qualities, none of the five Hardy pictures which have gone before, had more of human nature in it. Here, the Hardy family acquires riches.

The story, briefly, takes the Hardys to claim a fortune left by an ancestor. They move into the estate and are greeted by an impeccable butler.

Double Bill At The Plaza

'SOS Tidal Wave' and 'Crime Takes a Holiday' Open Today

A glimpse into the future is afforded by "SOS—Tidal Wave," a Republic picture now showing at the Plaza Theatre. In "SOS—Tidal Wave" Ralph Byrd is seen as a television news reporter who uses this medium of the airways to smash a corrupt political ring. Kay Sutton is co-starred with Byrd in this Republic action drama, and prominent in the supporting cast are such popular veterans of the screen as George Barbier, Frank Jenks, Dorothy Lee and Marc Lawrence.

Armand Schaeffer was the associate producer and John Auer directed for Republic, the fastest growing company in the motion picture industry.

The second feature, "Crime Takes a Holiday," gives Jack Holt the role of a two-fisted district attorney.

Francisco's Spook Frolic at Capitol

The most astonishing things will happen at the Capitol Theatre, according to reports going around, for Francisco and his Spook Frolic will be here tonight for a special midnight show at 11.30.

Swallowing sharp safety razor blades and a length of thread, then threading the blades on the thread while they are in his mouth, without any apparent damage to himself, is all in a day's work for Francisco.

The spirits paint pictures on examined canvases while the audience watches them work; spirit messages appear on slates in the possession of members of the audience. The Hindu turban trick and the astonishing trunk illusion trick are part of the show.

With Irene Dunne and Fred MacMurray co-starred, and a supporting cast that includes Charlie Ruggles, William Collier Sr., Billy Cook and Marion Martin, Paramount's poignant heart drama, "Invitation to Happiness" is now at the Capitol Theatre. Produced and directed by Wesley Ruggles, the drama tells a heart-searching story of a society girl, played by Irene Dunne, who falls in love with and marries a prize fighter in the person of Fred MacMurray. An emotional problem presents itself immediately.
